Canton to hire two new cops

Canton Township officials plan to hire two new police officers. The township board approved the hiring on Aug. 9.

BY JOANNE MALISZEWSKI STAPF WRITER

Canton Township will soon get two new police officers.

"The department has been conservative in its approach to hiring personnel. We're making maximum use of our personnel," said Public Safety Director John Santomauro.

The township board Aug. 9 unanimously approved the hiring of the new officers — the first time since 1991. The department also will get a third officer by filling a vacancy. The two new positions were approved in 1993 for the current budget, which proposes hiring the officers mid-year.

But Township Clerk Loren Bennett expressed concern about financing the positions, as well as for a proposed request for the upcoming 1995 budget of another three new officers.

"Approving these two officers tonight seals our fate of raising taxes in 1995," Bennett said. "The numbers I see shows we don't have money to pay them." The police budget has an almost zero fund balance going into 1995.

According to a comparative analysis of Canton and other communities of similar population and square miles, the township has one of the lowest ratios of sworn officers to 1,000 residents. With 58 sworn officers Canton is at .97 officers per 1,000 residents. That's compared to: Dearborn Heights with 1.48, based on a population of 61,000 and 90 sworn officers; Farmington Hills at 1.27, with a population of 77,000 and 90 sworn officers; and Shelby Township at .92, with a 50,000 population and 46 sworn officers. Bloomfield Township with a population of 42,438 and 68 sworn officers has a 1.62 ratio.

"If you look at the comparative analysis, we are running pretty lean," Santomauro said.

Educator takes ride on blimp

BY M.B. DILLON STAFF WRITER

Did you know that Goodyear operates three blimps that average 200 feet in length, 50 feet in width, 60 feet in height, 202,700 cubic feet in volume, and 15,000 pounds? Or that they're propelled by two 420-horsepower turbo-prop engines with maximum speed of 65 mph? Or that the airships' polyester-fabric, helium-inflated skins have no internal framework?

Peggy Schneider of Plymouth Township learned this and more after a recent blimp ride over Ann Arbor.

The Fiegel Elementary School teacher was treated to the aerial tour after her husband, Ray Schneider, discovered the blimp was in town for a couple of sporting events. A Ford engineer, Schneider mentioned to a Goodyear representative that he and his wife would enjoy a flight.

That's all it took to snare an invitation.

That's all it took to snare an invitation.

The couple, along with a few others, were Goodyear's guests, taking off from the Ann Arbor airport on a sunny July day.

"I'm a third-grade teacher, so I was thinking.
'What are my kids going to want to know?" said Schneider. With answers to a list of questions and the exhilarating experience of flying the blimp herself, Schneider says she has enough information to teach a full unit on blimps.

Township trustees set maximum tax limits

By Joanne Maliszewski Staff Writer

Taxpayers are invited to offer their two cents worth on maximum tax limits under which the township could operate in 1995.

"As we do every August, we set a maximum tax rate for each of the three funds under control of the township board," said Canton Supervisor Tom Yack.

A public hearing is scheduled for 7 p.m. Tuesday, Sept. 13, to discuss the maximum limits — township officials could decide to set lesser rates — as well as the proposed 1995 budgets.

"This by no means says it is happening. There is the potential there," said Treasurer Elaine Kirchgatter, when trustees unanimously approved the maximum limits Aug. 9.

mum limit for the charter millage — which finances the general fund — at 1.11 mills, which is the current level. The Sept. 13 public hearing will include a Truth-In-Taxation hearing on the charter millage. Public Act 5 requires a public hearing when a mill generates more in revenue because of increased property values.

The fire special assessment millage maximum limit for 1995 is 3.09 mills.

The current rate is 2.94 mills. The police special assessment millage maximum limit is 5.15 mills. The current rate is 4.96 mills.

"We will obviously look for areas we can reduce," Yack said, referring to balancing the budgets without benefit of the increased rates in the police and fire funds. The maximum limits represent approximately a

AAA rezoning

The Township Board of Trustees approved a rezoning request from single-family residential to community commercial for AAA of Michigan for 9.92 acres on the west side of Canton Center Road, south of Ford Road.

Property to the north, south and west are already zoned commercial. AAA apparently plans to build a claims center on the portion of the acreage fronting Canton Center.

For all practical purposes, the fund balances or reserves for the police and fire funds are gone. That means township officials don't have the reserves to dip into to balance the funds. The fund balances were reduced by a property tax freeze in 1992, as well as an arbitration and insurance payments. Yack said.

He said he would also like to establish a five-year capital program for police and fire and other township equipment needs. The program could be financed with money from landfill royalties (the capital improvement fund) and revenue from land sales.

Area woman wins 2nd Big Mac trip

BY RALPH R. ECHTINAW STAPF WRITER

A Livoma woman has won a trip to the Labor Day Mackiwac Bridge walk for the second consecutive year thanks to the Wayne County Park System's participation in the Walk Michigan program.

Lucille Thielen was one of two Wayne County Walk Michigan bridge-walk winners last year. Thielen said she "enjoyed it very much," continued walking, continued dropping entry cards in the contest jars, and won again. "I guess she should go buy

Kids pick the best in school supplies

the yearly school supply shopping ritual The first day of school in Louisiana was always a late August scorcher and we would hurry home to change out of our new plaid jumpers and Weepuns and into shorts and sandals. Then the neighborhood "gang" would walk to the corner drugstore/soda fountain, all the way comparing notes about teachers, cute boys in the class, etc. Once there, we'd crowd around bins of looseleaf paper, notebooks and colored pencils, filling our hopping baskets with Barbie book covers and Beatls, binders. The frenzy concluded with a cher ry coke or chocolate soda at the lunch counter

Today, Barbie has been replaced with Mighty Morphina Plain vellow pencils are canvases for psychedelic art. Crayolas have sophisticated, exot c names. But the thrill of choosing your very own back to school stuff is still there. To avoid the crush of Aug. 30, you may want to plan a shopping trip with your child now for those obvious locker I found Alice Barnett, a first grader from Southfield, browsing the aisles of Kmart at Tel Twelve Mall for her school needs. Much to her mom's dismay, the following were Alice's musthaves. First, she selected a purple and green Neat Ideas school tool tote ($6.97), "to keep on my desk." She filled it with Bic Wavelengths Shimmers (the venerable ballpoint in six neon hues, $1.97), Odd Ballz "Rooky" erasers, Rites hot color combo pencils (three for 77-cents) a Creative Works pink and purple compass ($1.77) a Kidstik takes the place of Elmer's glue, $1.18) the Crayola

Limited Edition Big Box (96 crayons for $4.57) tollin' Wild pencil case ($1.97) and a magnetic Lion King picture frame. Alice had just come from the Super Gap ($15) and navy gold and crim

My teens have been doing their own school supply shopping for several years, so I was unaware hat they have their annual rituals and some defiite product preferences. My Seaholm senior, Matt, explained that everyone treks to Tel Twelve on the first half-day, where they all refuel in the Food Court and then converge on Office Depot, the supply source for older students.

Matt grabs Dixon Ticonderoga No. 2 pencils (four for 99-cents) "the Cadillac of pencils," he says, a bit facetiously. His friend, Jon Charters, stocks up on Eraser Mates, the ultimate blue pen (five for $1.49). Charlie Larkin of Bloomfield Township prefers college ruled, rather than wide ruled, looseleaf paper (500 sheets for 79-cents) and Erin Killian from Birmingham swears by bright blue Duotang folders.

Mary-Brennan Bachrack fills her locker with Mead Neathooks ($1.96) and Five Star 5-subject spiral notebooks (three for $3.96). She also highly ommends the Eddie Bauer Campus Day

Pack ($45 at the Somerset Collection in Troy) Gail's Office Supply, 6612 Telegraph, is the place for Locker Center gear. Choose adjustable shelves ($6.99) a hanging organizer ($13.75) a photo frame and cork hoard ($3.49) mirrors ($3.49) and message pads ($3.49) in black, royal, yellow or hot pink Finally, replace the kids' summer vacation journal with Webster's Dictionary defines a sale as "a special offering of goods at prices lower than usual." To a shopper, there's nothing sweeter, but as always, buyer beware.

BY SUSAN DEMAGGIO

marketplace today (not even mentioning home shopping through catalogs, computers and television shows) there's no need to wait for traditional sales before deciding to buy something or is there? When your towels are tearing, your tires are wearing, or your toes are pinching in too tight shoes. chances are somebody somewhere has just what you want and it's on

"But you have to be sure you're getting exactly what you want in a sale item and you're not using $10 worth of gas just to save $2 on a pair of jeans," said retail consultant Fred Marx, based in Farmington Hills "Retailers use different kinds of sales for different reasons and smart shoppers recognize this.

Marx said some sales are designed to create traffic so sales increase in other areas of the store. Others are vendor-supported to urge shoppers to stock up on items like the annual Jockey Underwear or Round The Clock hosiery sales. Still others, are used to clear out slow-selling merchandise or get early reads on what consumers like best for an upcoming season.

The price of an item also depends on a store's retail philosophy. Some retailers "value-price" mer chandise. Items arrive on the selling floor with a low mark up and aren't offered for sale through the season. Other retailers mark the same item higher, but advertise 20 percent off sales periodically.

The discount retailers purchase goods at special prices and pass these savings on to shoppers, but the merchandise is often past season or available in limited sizes. Actually, the framework is still there for the traditional annual sales." Marx said. "But added to this framework are many more sales because there are so many more mass merchandisers out there. The shopper is actually in Marx pointed out that some tems that never went on sale, like Hartmann Luggage, now do. Dockers pants, "which are sold everywhere but vending machines," can usually be purchased for a price below retail somewhere at any time of Shoppers have to read the papers and study the ads," Marx advised. "Ask your favorite sales-

ROLL CALL REPORT

Congress supports community banking in poor areas

tric area members of Congress were recorded on major roll call votes in the week ending Aug.

Cargo Ship Subsidies: By a vote of 294 for and 112 against. he House sent the Senate a bill HR 4003) spending $1.3 billion over 10 years to subsidize companies that build and operate cargo ships under the American flag. The money would be raised by increas ing tonnage fees on commercial vessels entering U.S. ports. Among ther outlays, the bill authorizes $399 million in fiscal year 95 for the Mantime Administration, up 5ix percent over the agency's 1994

Supporters said that in addition

A yes vote was to pass the bill. Area representatives voting yes were: Dale Kildee, D-Flint, Sander Levin, D-Southfield, William Ford, D-Ypsilanti. Voting no: Joseph Knollenberg, R-Birmingham. Not voting: Bob Carr, D-Pontiac.

Community Banking: By a vote of 410 for and 12 against, the House passed a bill (HR 3474) providing $382 million in capital through FY '98 to banks doing business in poor communities, making credit available for economic development. A new govern ment corporation would run the program. The bill also authorizes $50 million for state-sponsored small business lending programs, and grants regulatory relief to smaller banks.

No opponent spoke against the bill. Area representatives voting yes were: Bob Carr, Dale Kildee Joseph Knollenberg, Sander Lev in, William Ford.

Space Station: By a vote of 36 for and 64 against, the Senate refused to kill the space station Alpha by removing its funding from NASA's FY '95 budget (HR 4624). The vote preserved $2.1 billion for continued development of the manned research facility, which is stated to go in orbit early next dec ade as a joint venture with Russia. About $12 billion has been appropriated to date toward an estimated $28 billion total project cost.

A yes vote was to kill the space station. Michigan Senators Carl Levin, D, voted yes, and Donald Riegie, D, voted no.

Veterans Hospitals: The Senate approved, 62 for and 36 against, spending $428 million next fiscal year to expand veterans hospitals at Memphis, Honolulu and Travis Air Force Base near Sac ramento. This kept money for the projects in the Department of Vet erans Affairs FY '95 budget (HR 4624). It killed an amendment to transfer the money to veterans' outpatient treatment. ## New core curriculum scrutinized

BY TIM RICHARD STAFF WRITER

The public will get a look in November at Michigan's new core curriculum standards even as the State Board of Education struggles to refine them.

Sample questions before the eight-member state board: Should students "judge" the decisionmakers of history? Should schools emphasize mastery of "standard English" and de-emphasize "di-versity"? Should schools teach that the solar system began with a "big bang" or leave the solution

"I can't think of anything more important that this board will do," said Robert Schiller, superintendent of public instruction, who chairs meetings of the elected

Schiller noted that part of the Proposal A school reform package requires the board to draft standards and to schedule by Sept. 1 a series of public hearings. The board has yet to set the schedule but approved the standards for discussion purposes.

Meanwhile, Randall Heckman, representing Michigan Pamily Porum, said parents in his conservative group will offer "major input" to seek "significant changes." Targets, he said, will be "multiculturalism" and "constructiv-

As drafted by hundreds of committee members in the Department of Education, the "Con-structivist" approach "emphasises concepts. Students learn how to use and apply important ideas . . . exploration of student questions . authentic tasks calling for problem solving and critical thinking . . expressing divergent points of view . . dialogue in a learning community where students and teachers work cooperatively."

On the way out is the so-called "traditional" approach — "relying heavily on textbooks, workbooks and drill sheets . . . a hier-archical and authoritarian structure in which students work alone students memorize basic facts . . . there is one correct answer to every question." The State Board, an elected body with constitutional authority to oversee public schools, wrestled last week in Lansing with three areas: Human dignity - At the insistence of co-president Annetta Miller, D-Huntington Woods, the board said students should examine "historic violations of human dignity involving discrimination, persecution and crimes against humanity.

Asked Gary Wolfram, R-Hillsdale: "Does that include throwing Christians to the lions?

"Sure," said Miller, "and those who stood by during the (Spanish) Inquisition and when Christians were thrown to the lions."

But judging decision-makers of the past too harshly bothered Marilyn Lundy, R-Detroit. "This is almost throwing factual history out the window. People react according to the political correctness of the times. We can't always judge in the light of our present morality," said Lundy, who often favors traditional points of view.

"Mrs. Lundy is exactly right," said Dr. Michael Yocum, a social studies consultant with Oakland Intermediate School District who worked on the standards. "You have to view them (decision makers) with historical empathy, in the context of the times."

Taking a middle ground was board treasurer Dorothy Beard more, R-Rochester: "I have no problem with judging decisions of the past. You run the risks of being extremely judgmental of populations dead for centuries, or of making excuses.

■ Standard English — "It looks too much like we're saying nonstandard English is something we approve of," objected Wolfram, a free-market economist who teaches at Hillsdale College and was an economic adviser to Gov. John Engler.

"You (students) ought to be able read, write and think in standard, grammatically correct English. There are pages and pages (on diversity). We slip in, in parentheses, that maybe they ought to learn how to spell.

'Non-standard English is not going to help develop students when they fill out a job application or a college application. It (the curriculum standard) says the literate individual will 'understand and appreciate diversity

...' Come on! If you don't have a social fabric and commonality, you have places like Rwanda," he said, referring to tribal civil wars that have claimed tens of thou-

Wolfram offered no specific amendment to change the stand-

Science - The board adopted Lundy's amendment to require explaining various scientific theo-ries of the solar system's origin, rather than one: "I don't think anyone really knows how it began," she said.

Board members raised eyebrows at first until Lundy explained, "I don't mean to get into creationism versus evolution. Creationism is an evangelical Protestant doctrine that the Bible is literally correct in saying the universe was created in six days 6,000 years ago; it rejects the theory that species of living things evolved over billions of years.

But Wolfram still was bothered by a reference in the science section to "contributions of diverse culture to science." "Come on that's a political statement. Do we have to know if Ptolemy was Greek or Arabic? If we have four goals in science, I don't want a political statement as the third goal.

Buying a home is a wise choice. But that's not the end of it. There are all the expenses after you move in ... from paint, wallpaper and furniture to landscaping. And after paying points and closing costs, you may not have enough money to do the things you'd like to do. That's why Standard Federal Bank offers the No Point/No Fee Mortgage. It's ideal for buyers who can afford the down payment and monthly mortgage payment, but may need help with closing costs. But it's not just for first time buyers. The No Point/No Fee Mortgage also provides people who are moving up with a little extra cash for redecorating and other essentials. Or simply for that vacation next winter.

When you apply for your mortgage, you'll be asked to pay a $250 application fee which will be credited back to you at closing.* And you won't have to pay the following customary fees:

• Credit Report • $350 Closing Fee

· Recording Fees · Survey Fees (where applicable) . Mortgage Title Insurance Fees • Pest Inspection (where applicable).

Plus, the No Point/No Fee Mortgage option is available with a variety of Standard Federal mortgages, including: • 30-year Conventional Fixed Rate • 15-year Conventional Fixed Rate

CHEF LARRY JANES

Ship off with galley of cooking essentials

ne does not usually think of gourmet meals aboard a boat. Cruising is a time of relaxation, not food preparation. And, in most cases, people think that galleys simply do not have the right equipment to produce a meal of any sustenance

Well, these ideas are essentially wrong. A boat of good size, usually anything over 20 feet, will have some indication of a galley, or at least an area large enough to accommodate a sink, a cutting board and a small refrigerator

This is not the case with regard to the Janes Gang pleasure craft Moored on a trailer in momma's driveway next to the pop-up camper, our boat, all 17 feet of it, is barely large enough to accommodate four adults and a cooler. Fortunately, friends Don and Tonya Carney of White Lake Township make up for our shortcomings and frequently share their 37 foot Carver It sleeps eight, has a galley kitchen equipped with a range oven, microwave, and full-sized refrigerator. There's even a dining room.

Of course, anyone who has ever enjoyed the amenities of a boat smaller than the presidential yacht, realizes that when it comes to food, careful consideration must be given to preparation and storage

Storing staples

It would be nice, and extremely beneficial, if all boats equipped with a galley contained full range of spices neatly concealed in a spice rack. Common sense, on the other hand, tells us that a boat is in water and water reeks havor in the form of humidity, especially around herbs and spices

Folks in the know who cook on their boats frequently store spices in sealed, burpable plastic containers, i.e. Tupperware. In addition to salt, garlic powder, onion powder, basil, oregano, dill and cinnamon are the most widely used spices. A jar of seasoned salt or Mrs. Dash seasoning is also good to have

A covered container of flour and sugar, and a small ar of oil should also be part of this package. In the fridge or cooler, mustard, ketchup, soy sauce and a jar of prepared crushed garlic can help turn a plain dish of cooked pasta into a gourmet treat.

Cooking equipement

Since galley space is usually at a premium, easily washed heavy plastic dishes and non stick cookware seems to offer the best alternatives.

A 12-inch non-stick fry pan coupled with an eight or 10-inch omelet pan, again non-stick or made from one of the newer commercial anodized aluminum coat ings (ala Calphalon) make cooking and cleanup a breeze with hardly the need for scouring powder, steel wool pads or a multitude of other cleaning products

Couple these with an eight quart cooking pot and lid, and a smaller four quart saucepan, and a good selection of wooden gadgets that can be used as serving spoons and forks, and you'll be well on your way to great meal.

As far as other accoutrements, a plastic colander with feet, a good plastic cutting board and the three knife essentials (parer, slicer/boning, French ) should be more than enough to make a great repast.

Boating stores offer a multitude of cooking gadgets and paraphernalia and cookbooks too, but expect to pay for the convenience. Instead, search out close-outs of cookware manufacturers and gadget suppliers. I think that a well equipped galley should be something like a well equipped camper kitchen.

For easy transport to the washing station or the car, large, 48 quart plastic storage boxes (available at Target/Kmart for under $10) are just the thing for packing and transporting. They can easily be washed out and stored under beds, tables and coolers. Blender, crock pots, electric fry pans and woks are nice to use, but pose a storage problem and need a little more care when cleaning. A plastic pail with handle filled to the brim with dish towels, hot pads, liquid soap and bottle of spray cleaner should be all that is necessary to clean up after a messy spill in any galley Lastly, when it comes to recipes, remember the old adage that "less is more." Look for recipes that can be made simply, especially recipes that can be prepared in 30 minutes or less using what you have on hand. That way you can spend your time on the deck, enjoy ing the boat. Galley-type cookbooks are readily available at any bookstore, and in most public libraries. But to be perfectly honest, I've come to the conclusion that you'll get far better ideas and recipes from a cookbook that specializes in "quick" cooking, especially in books that offer great recipes in the "five-minute five ingredient" category.

DON'T GO OVERBOARD

WITH SIMPLE DISHES

Michigan is a boater's paradise. Spending an afternoon cruising waves is great fun, but preparing meals can be a challenge. Don't go overboard, keep it simple. Seaworthy cooks share recipes that won't rock the boat.

BY RENEE SKOGLUND SPECIAL WRITER

Bud Smith, a Farmington business owner, former teacher, and one-time candidate for the state Senate, loves to enertain friends and clients aboard his 36-food Tiara power boat, "Piquod."

His daughter, Mary Brady, copropietor of Diamond Jim Brady's Bistro in Novi, and Michigan's only woman certified chef, loves to create anderful dishes - like "Creole Calamari." Together, father and daughter have formed the perfect boating partnership: He captains, she cooks. 'She's a fabulous cook," Smith said of his daughter who graduated from the culinary arts program at Schoolcraft College in Livonia. After spending a thrilling afternoon riding the waves on Lake St. Clair with Smith, Brady, and Smith's eightyear-old granddaughter, Elizabeth MacIntyre, I had to agree.

Brady likes to describe her restaurant as being "casually gourmet" and "like sitting down at mom's, but better," but nothing I ate between the time we left Markley's Marina in Mt. Clemens and arrived at Kean's Marina in Detroit was anything like mom's.

With Smith at the helm and two 375-horsepower diesel engines slicing the "Piquod" through some three-footers, Brady was in the galley preparing roast beef sandwiches topped with thin slices of tomato and spicy mustard. She served this with homemade potato chips. Later we had Boursin cheese, a high butterfat delight that comes in its own convenient tin, and wine-marinated poached salmon garnished with grapes marinated in vinegar, brown sugar, ginger and cinnamon.

The "Piquod's" neatly packaged galley is equipped with a two-burner stove, an oven, a microwave, and a small overhead refrigerator. Still, it's no turkey-roasting kitchen. Brady suggests boaters serve quickfix or easily portable itmes like hummus, tabbouleh, cold salads and soups. However, she was quick to add, "it's not that hard to be creative. You have all the beautiful fruits and vegetables."

When Brady caters a party for her father, she prepares many of the dishes in her restaurant, and transports them dockside in a large cooler. Her salmon, marinated and poached beforehand, and covered in plastic wrap on a serving dish, travelled quite well. It fit nicely into the bottom shelf of the refrigerator. "But keep in mind," Brady said, "that you need a generator to run a stove and refrigerator."

Vegetables and fruits for salads can be sliced in advanced, and stored in resealable plastic bags to

While Smith, a mechanical engineer who improvised the first waterpropelled jet boat during his Navy days during World War II, loves eating and boating, he loves being with his family even more. He and his wife Mary, have seven children, six girls and one boy.

The best time I ever had was two years ago when all the kids got together (on the boat) and we went up to St. Clair. We had a picnic and slept over," he said. Obviously, his chef-daughter brought more than just a dish to pass.

On board: Briefly docked at Kean's Marina, Mary Brady shows off her poached salmon dish in the rear of the boat. Her father, Bud Smith is at the helm. There isn't alot of room in the galley.

Jim Thibault who, along with his wife Nancy, son Mike, and partner Don Moore, owns the Cook's Garden in Birmingham, knows all about food-loving boaters. He's one of them. He's an executive chef with two boats of his own, a 32-foot Regal and a 22-foot Chris Craft.

Every year his restaurant donates a boat party for 10 at the Annual Grosse Pointe Academy Action Auction. "The same person

Wine giant awakens in southern France

France Vignerons du Val d'Orbieu is an organization of 190 growers, including 90 chateaux and domaines, and 18 cooperatives making wines in France's Languedoc-

Roussillon. The Languedoc-Roussillon is the largest wine region in France producing one-third of all French wine. (Approximately 680 million cases of French wine annually.) In this region of southern France, wave after wave of vineyards stretch in a wide arc following the Mediterrean coast west from Marseille to the Spanish border.

For years, the Languedoc-Roussillon was known for its rustic, inelegant, even coarse wines, many of which were sold in bulk by the tanker truck load rather than in bottle. One might think that these producers would have gone out of business due to strong competition, except that they were subsidized by the French government. Each

Big Wheels, Toughskins are part of act

BY BOB SADLER

Whether you refer to a certain segment of the population as "twentysomethings" or the dreaded Generation X," they are a group that has yet to make a significant impact in comedy clubs around the country - either as a sizable chunk of the audience or as performers.

A couple of local guys are out to change that. John Heffron and Joel Zimmer, two "twentysome thing" stand-ups, have designed a comedy show different from the standard MC/Feature Act/ Headliner format found in the clubs.

And it's got a rather cool name - "Pop Rocks, Moonboots and Parachute Pants.

"We wanted a name that featured things our age group would identify with," said Zimmer, a University of Michigan graduate and Plymouth resi dent. Think of our show as the Lollapalooza of comedy without the body piercing"

This unique show, which combines video vignettes and music snippets interspersed with stand-up comedy and recurring characters, recent y played in Chicago and hits this area tonight at Mark Ridley's Comedy Castle. Heffron and Zimmer plan to take the show on tour, performing at colleges and clubs in college towns. Each is a veteran of the college touring circuit in their young Heffron, an Eastern Michigan graduate, is probably the better-known performer, achieving headliner status and his first appearance on A&E's "Evening at the Improv" in the last year.

"I did my first open mike at the MainStreet Comedy Showcase in Ann Arbor," Heffron said, and it just snowballed from there. It took a few years to figure out who I am on stage, but I'm not one to follow any formula.

The idea for "Pop Rocks, Moonboots and Parachute Pants" arose out of Heffron and Zimmer's audiences. References to Big Wheels, Toughskins and the like did not play as well with the older crowds as they did on the college tours.

"We're going to play each show by ear," Zimmer added. "We're going to keep it loose and just have fun with it.

If you haven't, you may not recognize us.

We've added some great new features:

- · complete access to the Internet and every Internet feature— Gopher, FTP, Telnet, Internet Relay Chat, email, WWW, etc.
- · lots of local phone numbers so that reaching us is a local call from nearly anywhere in Michigan
- · a new menu-driven, easy-to-navigate interface

And all of our original features are still going strong:

- stock quotes
- · electronic editions of the Observer & Eccentric Newspapers
- · local chat and discussion areas
- · free and unlimited email

You can access On-Line! with just about every communications software-PC or Macintosh.

All of this costs a bundle, right?

Nope, doesn't even come close.

How does $9.95 a month sound? That's the tab on a one-year subscription. Six-month subscribers pay $14.95 and On-Line! runs $19.95 by the month.

Of course, there are never extra charges for connecting to "special" areas or exceeding a pre-set quota time limit.

What more could you ask for?

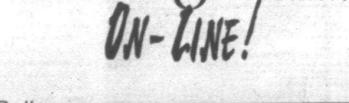

A free trial?

It's yours.

For two weeks of free On-Line!, just call (313)591-0903 or (810)901-4711 with your modem.

Big innings pivotal

enny's/First Place Bar and Grill used a pair of four-run innings to ignite it in a 12-8 victory over Metro Direct in the Canton Parks and Recreation Softball League playoff championship game Aug. 7.

Kenny's, which placed second with a 9-5 record to Mexican Fiesta I (12-2) in the White Division's regular season, struck for four runs in the first inning and four more in the fifth. Randy Brooks, Chris Drake and Darrell Garner provided clutch hits for the champions.

Earlier in the playoffs, Kenny's defeated American Yazaki 20-4; Rusty Nail 16-10; Action Landscape 21-8; and Metro Detroit 13-10. Metro Detroit advanced with victories over Lobdell Emery-Canton Sports 13-5; ASAP Machine 15-8; and A.G. Edwards 15-4.

Tournament champs

he Canton Force, an '80-81 Little Caesars premier boys soccer team, swept past the competition to claim its division crown at the Traverse City Invitational Cherryland Soccer Tournament Aug. 6-7.

The championship didn't come easily for the Force. Twice they had to beat the tournament's defending division titlists, the Canadian Sue Civics. The first meeting between the two came in the tournament's opening round; the Force prevailed

After that came meetings with the USL Cougars, which the Force defeated 6-1, and Traverse City United, which fell by a 3-1 count. That set up the rematch with the Sue Civics to determine the championship. The result was a win for

olly Vettese, from Plymouth, was close but couldn't overtake Shari Morningstar of Royal Oak for the top spot in the second flight at Wednesday's Women's Metropolitan Golf Association tournament at Brae Burn Golf Course in Plymouth Vettese trailed Morningstar by two strokes (46 to 44) after nine holes, but then fell further off the pace. Vettese finished second with a 95; Morningstar fired a 90.

Hockey registration

he Plymouth-Canton Hockey Association will conduct its registration for Plymouth and Canton residents only 8:30-10 a.m. Saturday, Aug. 27, at the Plymouth Cultural Center. Proof of residency must be provided. Residents from other communities may register from 10 a.m. to noon Sunday, Aug. 28, at the Cultural Center. Openings are limited.

Also, the PCHA will host a used equipment sale 10 a.m. to noon Sunday, Aug. 28, at the Cultural Center. Used equipment up for sale may be brought in at 9 a.m. Aug. 28. The PCHA will keep 10 percent of the sale price as a fund-raiser.

For further information regarding registration or the equipment sale, call 454-9979.

Ambassadors tryout

he East-West Baseball Ambassadors will have a tryout for their 1995 teams at Henry Ford Community College in Dearborn at 4 p.m. Aug. 26. Registration fee is $20.

The Ambassadors are a nonprofit organization dedicated to player development and diplomacy through sports. This summer, the organization took nearly 1,000 athletes overseas to play in tournaments in Italy, France, Holland, Hong Kong, China, Australia, Puerto Rico and Cuba.

Players spend four days at training sites in Vero Beach, Fla., or Los Angeles prior to going overseas To qualify, players must be between 11 and 20 years old and attend a tryout camp, where they will be evaluated.

Those wishing to try out must bring their own equipment to Henry Ford. For more information, call the Ambassadors state office at (810) 790-

Finesse sign-up

he Finesse slow-pitch girls softball program will have tryouts for next summer's travel teams the last two weekends in August at the Wayne-Ford Civic League fields, located on Wayne south of Ford.

For more details, call the respective age-gr hes: for under-12, John Tonner at (810) 624-3187; for under-14, Jim Glennie at (810) 363-8281; for under-16, Bill Martin at (313) 722-4999; for under-18, Barry Patterson at (313) 722-1135.

A playing career gets an extension

BY C.J. RISAK

The love of the game That's what keeps Chip Wadowski making that 100 mile round-trip trek three times a week: To play football for the Southern Michigan Tim-Two of those trips are for practice. And by the time he sets out on his journey to Monroe, Wadowski has already worked a full day for a lawn maintenance service. But what he does is much the same as any of his teammates. None of them get paid. They just want

Why? Wadowski explained it like this: "I have a lot of friends ask me that. They say, 'Chip, you don't get paid, you're not insured, you could get injured - why do you do it?"

"I tell them that once it's in your blood, it never leaves. I took two years off from the game and it left such a void in my life. When you're back on the FOOTBALL field, you're in such a euphoric state.

"There's nothing to compare with it." There's nothing to compare with the Timberwolves at present. They are in their first season of existence, playing in the 24-team Mid-Continental Football League, and they are unbeaten through four games. Pretty good start.

And a pretty good reason to be back playing football for Wadowski, a 1992 graduate of Plymouth Salem who currently lives in Livonia. In his two years away from the game, Wadowski attended Ferris State and played baseball.

"It got to the point were I did all I wanted to do in baseball," said Wadowski, who played on Salem's state championship team in '91. "I wanted to put the pads back on."

It wasn't all he wanted to do. Wadowski has the same opportunity as a few of his teammates: To make a strong impression, to develop and improve enough to land a college scholarship.

Since he's only 20, he has that chance. He's 6-foot, 220 pounds, and he's playing inside linebacker (he played strong safety at Salem).

So at least he has a carrot to chase. His team, Wadowski estimates, averages around 24 or 25 years of age, too old for - or already out of -

"I've been giving it a lot of thought," Wadowski said. "My education is my No. 1 priority. If I can do it, play football, and get my tuition paid for, I'll do it. That's my main goal.'

But not his only goal, by any means. Wadowski wants to play - something he hasn't been able to do enough of recently. An ankle injury forced him to miss two games, and he played sparingly in the Timberwolves' 14-0 victory over the Cleveland Lions Aug. 6.

Field of dreams

Community, players combine on a 1st-class job

Madonna University Park is a welcome sight for residents who live in the Livonia subdivision near the former Bentley High School by Five Mile and Hubbard roads.

BY STEVE KOWALSKI

The 307-foot marker is pretty inviting compared to the one in left field that measures 326 feet.

"Their eyes light up when they see it," Madonna coach Mike George said.

But you really get the feeling this is someplace special when the owners of the home about 100 feet behind the right-field fence, retirees Cliff and Millie Avery, say nice things about Madonna's 'Field of Dreams."

In the two summers since Madonna renovated the eyesore that was the former Bentley High School field, a baseball has yet to land in the Averys' living room. But that's only one of the reasons they appreciate what George and his staff have done.

"I've never met a nicer bunch of people," Millie Avery said. "We've been here since 1951 and we got used to the Bentley kids who were here and were nice also. But when Bentley closed in 1985, they let anyone play here and we had some trouble.

Cliff Avery, a retired electrician, had a hand in the renovation, wiring the scoreboard and public address system. His wife makes sure none of the grounds crew, who are usually Madonna players, go thirsty in the summer 'We've adopted them more or less," Cliff Avery said. George started the Madonna baseball program in 1989. For the first four years, the Crusaders played 151 of their 171 games at the opponents' field.

"Home" for the Crusaders was nia's Ford Field or Redford Township's Capitol Park. Madonna signed an 18-month lease with the Livonia Public Schools in 1992 and recently received a five-year extension, George said.

Madonna gave the baseball program $5,000 to start the renovation and nearly $30,000 in donations has been raised to continue, according to George.

No quitting: Donaldson returns to coach

BY BRAD EMONS

Chuck Donaldson recently took a turn at water skiing in Pontiac Lake.

Quite a feat for somebody who can't walk.

'I was excited about it," said Donaldson, who suffered paralysis from a devastating car accident on June 27, 1993, in Canton Township. After 13 months of grueling recovery and rehabilitation, the 26-year-old Donaldson is even more excited about being back as Livonia Clarenceville's head football coach.

Donaldson's biggest concern is no longer himself or his paralysis, but the Trojans' varsity team, which began official practice (without pads) on

"I have the fear of seeing the kids not reaching their goals," Donaldson said. "And if it doesn't happen, I'll take it upon myself because I'm their coach and leader

"My priorities are for the kids. I want to see them succeed.'

Scene of accident

After colliding early in the morning with a Canton police officer at the corner of Haggerty and Ford roads, Donaldson suffered multiple injuries when he was thrown from his Ford Explorer. (The Canton officer, whose name was never released, was also injured, but later released.)

"I was definitely a seat-belt wearer but not in high school," he said. "Later on I generally wore my belt. It was about 2:30 in the morning, but apparently I wasn't wearing it.

"I was at my niece's birthday party and wer talking to relatives. I got tired and decided to go home. I really have no memory of that night, that day or that week. The anniversary was just a couple of weeks ago. It's a tough thing to forget.'

Donaldson was on his way home to his newly purchased condominium in Canton, but wound up instead at St. Joseph's Hospital in Ann Arbor. He was later transported by helicopter to the intensive care unit at the University of Michigan Hospital.

(The accident, a two-car collision, was investigated by the Michigan State Police. Donaldson was never issued a ticket or citation.)

After being named head coach at the tender age of 25 in June of '93, Donaldson had to wait more than a year to conduct his first official practice at

Wadowski discovered the league last winter. "I was reading about it in a newspaper in Januhe recalled. "I thought about going out for the Detroit Panthers first, then the Michigan Renegades. I was weighing all the factors, trying to get all the information I could on each. That led him to placing a phone call to Dick Suess, the eague's director of information. Suess told him about a new team forming in Monroe - the Tim-

Wadowski's decision to go with the Timberwolves didn't seem too where I plan to be.' smart initially. The team's coaching was lackluster, and the turnout at practices matched it. We'd have between 10 and 15 guys at practice," Wadowski said. It was hard to focus on a season when you don't have a team."

Before the start of their first eason, a major change was made. l'imberwolves' owner Rob Garber eplaced coach Kirk Heidelberg with Pat Gucciardo.

Everything turned around "Our team is one of the most well coached organizations I've ever been with," said Wadowski. "They take good care of us. And the guys all want to be part of a winning organization. "To be honest, I don't believe snyone can beat us. The championship game is at the Citrus Bowl in Florida in October. That's He just might make it. After all,
