THE CHRONOLOGY OF THE PAST YEAR—RECORD OF LOCAL EVENTS OF 1900

The following chronological record of the year 1900 is copied from successive numbers of The Friend, the oldest living periodical in these islands.

JANUARY.

Jan. 1st—New Year's day. The Advertiser issues an exceptionally fine illustrated Holiday number of twenty-eight pages, replete with Hawaii's past, present and future.—Plague infected buildings on Maunakea street burned by direction of the Health authorities.—Important evening meeting of the Board of Health at which the Cabinet and a number of prominent citizens were present to consider the situation. Draconic measures adopted to fight the plague.

throughout the city. Citizens' Sanitary Committee establish house to house visitation by inspectors twice a day.

10th—Death of Mrs. Boardman casts a gloom over the city.—Block 9, bounded by Beretania, Smith, Pauahi and Maunakea streets, burned by order of the Health authorities.

FEBRUARY.

Feb. 1st—Noon wedding at St. Andrew's cathedral of Dr. Walter Hoffmann and Miss Katherine McNeill.—Three Japanese crushed to death at the Pioneer mill, Lahaina, by the fall of a molasses tank.

MARCH.

March 1st—Honolulu's rainfall for February was but 1.14, and for the past four months, our usual rainy season, it was only 4.30, a deficit of 15 inches from the average amount for the period.—Another white "suspect" case, which eventually proves other ailment, does serious damage to prominent business interests and continues the plague anxiety.

APRIL.

April 2nd—Court of Claims appointed.—Annual meeting of the Young Men's Christian Association, reporting favorable progress for the year.—Death of D. W. Roach after a short illness.

"THE OCEAN OF OCEANS"—FROM 'FRISCO TO JAPAN BY JOAQUIN MILLER, THE POET OF THE SIERRAS

Such room of sea! Such room of sky! Such room to draw a soulful breath! Such room to live! Such room to die! Such room to roam in after life!

Her wide, warm, restful wings at rest; To see her rounded neck reach out; Her eyes lean lovingly about; talking it over and you agree with them that they should have taken the northern or summer route for their wedding tour, and you all want a storm; women are such brave little things at sea.

Then quick, keen saber-cuts, like ice; Then sudden hail, like battle-shot; Then two last men crept down like mice.

17th—Departure of the Australia with some two hundred passengers for San Francisco.—The Triangle Club begins a series of weekly lectures on municipal government at the Young Men's Christian Association hall.

DEATH OF A. C. STEELE

Grip the Cause of His Untimely End.

A GREAT LOSS TO HILO

Business Manager Buried by Kilauea Lodge of Masons With Due Honors.

HILO, Hawaii, Dec. 27.—Scarcely had the sound of the Steele-Willis wedding bells died away when the community was shocked by the news that the groom, Archibald C. Steele, was lying dead at the residence of C. C. Kennedy at Waiakoa. On December 8, says the Herald, the wedding took place before a few intimate friends at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Scott, Wainaku Lawns, where Miss Willis had made her home during her residence in Hilo. Following the wedding came a magnificent reception that was attended by hundreds of the friends of the happy couple. Two days later Mr. and Mrs. Steele went to the mountain home of Mr. Kennedy to spend their honeymoon.

Only a few days later Mr. Steele developed a cold which quickly turned into la grippe and symptoms of pneumonia developed, and when a few friends surprised the bride and groom they found Mr. Steele ill. A week ago it was decided to bring Mr. Steele to Mr. Kennedy's Waiakoa residence, where he could be nearer his physician, Doctor Reid. Up to Saturday his condition was not considered really serious, and on Friday he sat on the veranda with his wife. Saturday he became suddenly worse and a consultation of physicians was called and it was seen that his case was serious and that there was little hope for recovery. On Sunday he was conscious only at short intervals and at 10 o'clock that night he passed quietly away, the immediate cause of his death being heart failure.

The sad occurrence was not generally known until early Monday morning and then it was received as a shock seldom experienced in Hilo. Flags on business houses were immediately put at half-mast, for the deceased was held in profound respect by everyone. Funeral services were held at the First Foreign Church, of which Mr. Steele was a member, at 2 p. m. Monday, the church being crowded, Kilauea Lodge of Masons, of which deceased had recently been elected Master, occupying one form. Mr. Cruzan in his remarks paid a deservedly high tribute to the deceased, and the quartet, composed of Mrs. Lewis, Miss Wolfenden, Mr. Howland and Mr. Cooke, sang "Rock of Ages" and "Nearer My God to Thee." After the services at the church the remains, which were encased in a beautiful black walnut casket, were turned over to the Masonic Lodge for interment. The pallbearers were N. C. Willifong, E. D. Baldwin, Mr. Webster, Mr. McKenzie, E. N. Holmes and W. S. Wise. The funeral was under the direction of G. W. Lockington.

At the grounds the beautiful Masonic ceremony was read by E. E. Richards and Rev. J. A. Cruzan, while the vicinity of the burial plot was crowded with brother Masons and friends of the deceased.

Archibald Cooper Steele was born in Lanark, Scotland, and was 34 years of age. Early in life he expressed a desire to become a printer and was apprenticed to a firm in Edinburgh. On completing his term of service there he decided to embark to the United States. He visited several of the large cities, finally settling in San Francisco, and when a newspaper was decided upon for Stanford University Mr. Steele was put in charge of the composing room. Seven years ago he arrived in Honolulu and immediately took a position with the Honolulu Star, which had just started. A change in the office of the business manager made Mr. Steele the foreman, a position which he creditably filled for two years, when he came to Hilo to take charge of the Job department of the Hilo Tribune. Upon the retirement of E. D. Sparrow Mr. Steele was selected to be business manager. His success in that position was marked and the business prospered wonderfully under his guidance. In social and business life he was a great favorite, and it is doubtful if he had one real enemy in the Islands. Pleasant and suave of manner, people sought him out and were glad to class him among their friends. His home which he built for his bride and which they had not occupied was one of the prettiest of recent additions to Puaeo. Mr. Steele, who is at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Scott, prostrated by the shock, has the sympathy of every one.

MURDERER PUEO DIES AT HOSPITAL

Naomi Kaaihue's Slayer the Victim of Wounds He Made Himself

Pueo, murderer, died Saturday in the Queen's Hospital, whence he had been removed from Oahu prison on account of severe illness more than a week ago. Pueo died of consumption, brought on by the effects of wounds which he made upon himself several months ago. The story of Pueo is well known. Several months ago he murdered Naomi Kaaihue in Palama by shooting her and then slashing her with a razor. As she lay dying in the premises of the house where she had been staying Pueo made desperate attempts to end his life by cutting his throat.

Despite the terrible cuts he inflicted, he survived, and after a period of convalescence in the hospital, was taken to the prison and bound over to the grand jury in the District Court. The manner in which food was given him through the orifice in his neck and the physical strength exhibited was the cause of much comment among the surgeons. His death by natural causes cheated the hangman of a victim.

Delegate Wilcox's pay seems likely to reconcile him to winter weather which was not made for thin Hawaiian blood.

The Bulletin renders a public service by printing interviews which show how nearly unanimous is the local feeling among responsible men against having a city charter at this time.

TOMORROW'S ADVERTISER.

The New Year's number of the Advertiser, due tomorrow morning, will be a paper of thirty-two pages, hand somely illustrated with photo-engravings made in this office, and carrying a pictorial illuminated cover.

To head off those who increased the retail price of the Christmas number, and may undertake the same thing regarding the New Year's number, the publishers wish to say that the retail price per copy of this paper always stands at five cents.

MILLER AND MISSIONARIES.

Joaquin Miller, whose taste for dirt has so often made the habitation of his muse untenable, does not like the church-going and conservative people of Hawaii any more than he does those of other places and climes.

How pitiful and so despoiled By those you fed, for whom you toiled. There never yet was a slanderer of Hawaii who did not raven about the "plunder" of the Hawaiian by the "missionary," declaring that all the missionaries are rich, and all the natives landless, and that in the ownership of the soil wrested from the aboriginal proprietors lies the treasure which the missionaries have heaped up.

There are 1,595 more of them owning valuable real estate than there are all other landed proprietors put together. Well would it have been to the Mexican owners of old California: if they could have done half as well as that after five years' experience with Joaquin Miller's red-shirted "friends of days gone by." And yet the "missionary" and his sons have been on this ground since 1820.

But enough of Miller and the subject he has brought up. Sober facts are as much thrown away upon him as moral essays would be on a tramp.

A glimpse of the purposes of the Independent Legislature is afforded by Delegate Wilcox, who says that if Congress does not give Liliuokalani a pension of $250,000—he means a gratuity—the Island law-makers will do so. With a program of city and county government calculated to double or treble taxes, and with a pledge existing to pay the Chinese fire claims, the addition of a quarter of a million for the former Queen looks as if the Independents had made up their minds that the less they see of the haole home-seeker and investor in these parts the better they will be satisfied.

usual semi-annual visit to the leper settlement.

23rd—Two natives meet their deaths in short order from drinking methylated spirits.

24th—Mr. Horace G. Crabbe is run over by a Chinese hackdriver and severely injured.

26th—The new steamship Californian, planned for the Hawaiian trade, arrives as a transport en route to Manila in consequence of the warfare waging in China.

27th—Friends of the late E. Uhlbrecht collected the sum of $1,458 for his unfortunate widow.—Ewa plantation has a cane fire whereby some twenty acres are destroyed.—German warship Geir arrives with hurry orders for China.

28th—Sixty-one acres of hitherto mountain grazing land in the Waihalu tract, Oahu, realized the sum of $1,900 at auction.—Hon. and Mrs. H. Waterhouse entertain a large party of invited guests at a luau at their peninsula home.

30th—First Circuit Judge rules that all documents filed in the Circuit Court shall be in the English language, and all old documents now on file must be translated and filed with the originals.—A gruesome discovery is made at Waihalu in finding the remains of W. E. Miller, a water prospector, in his tent, headless, from some explosives, and evidently dead several days; a supposed case of suicide.

31st—Chinese residents of Honolulu, in mass meeting assembled, denounce the Boxer massacre of foreigners in China and pass resolutions to that effect for forwarding to Washington.

AUGUST.

August 2nd—Steamer Aorangi from the Colonies en route for Victoria, after long delay and report of having orders to pass Hawaii, enters port and does considerable business, taking over forty passengers.—Yesterday's distributed dividends from twelve plantations and one mercantile corporation amounted to $307,040.

3rd—August Kraft, a well known resident, passes away at his Makiki home of consumption, aged about 70 years.

4th—The Canadian-Australian S. S. Co. compromise on the Hogan Minerals' suit for $15,000.—Republicans have a ratification torchlight procession through the principal streets and mass meeting at the drill shed, at which the returned delegates and other speakers held forth with patriotic enthusiasm till a late hour.

5th—The new powerful tugboat Fearless arrives from San Francisco for service in these waters and the Iroquois arrives from her Midway Island cruise in the interest of the Pacific cable.

6th—The first grand jury meets.—Pueo, a Hawaiian, in a fit of jealousy, kills his wife by shooting and slashing her, then attempts self-murder by cutting his own throat, completely severing the windpipe. He is taken to the hospital and receives such surgical aid that at latest subsequent reports the chances were good for his standing trial for his deliberately planned deed.

8th—The British bark Dunreagan, from London for this port, runs hard aground off Diamond Head in broad daylight with a fresh breeze along shore. The tugs Eleu, Fearless and other steamers render aid, but to little purpose for the first day and night.—Chamber of Commerce holds its annual meeting and passes resolutions of enquiry as to the Government's intended action relative to "Chinatown" fire claims.

9th—The tugs Fearless, Iroquois and Eleu succeeded in hauling off the Dunreagan from her perilous position at high tide, 4 p. m., after having jettisoned considerable cargo, and is towed safely to port.—Delightful reception at S. M. Damon's country residence, Moanalua, in honor of F. C. Smith and Miss Wall.

10th—The old Royal school, condemned as unsafe for further use, is sold at auction for $140.—The Bar Association had its annual banquet at the Hawaiian hotel, at which the telling of a funny story offended three judges.

12th—Saml. Barney, a discharged employe of the Oahu railroad, shoots Jno. W. Lorbeer, the yardmaster, as the morning train was being made up, inflicting serious injuries which terminated fatally in three hours.

13th—Complimentary dinner by F. A. Schaefer, Esq., at his Rosebank residence, in behalf of the Planters' Association, to Dr. W. C. Stubbs, the visiting scientist and special agent of the U. S. Agricultural Department.

14th—The P. C. Advertiser publishes a list of sixty-one persons and firms who have paid the U. S. revenue license as retail liquor dealers, yet it is but a few weeks since the number permitted for this city under Hawaiian license was increased to eighteen. This list does not include the wholesalers or druggists.

15th—Sad news received of the death of Mrs. J. K. Farley—nee Juliette Smith—at Koloa, on the morning of the 14th. 15th—An injunction issues against the

"A Word to the Wise is Sufficient."

But some stubborn people wait until "down sick" before trying to ward off illness or cure it. The wise recognize in the word "Hood's" assurance of health.

For all blood troubles, scrofula, pimples, as well as diseases of the kidneys, liver and bowels, Hood's Sarsaparilla is the effective and faultless cure. Rheumatism—"I was practically helpless from rheumatism in my shoulder. Hood's Sarsaparilla cured me and ever since is a household favorite." Mrs. M. E. Powers, 4812 St. Lawrence Ave., Chicago, Ill.

Hood's Pills cure liver ills; the non-irritating and only cathartic to take with Hood's Sarsaparilla.

30th—S. Johannavitz, engaged at the New England bakery, meets instant death from an electric wire at 3:15 a. m. in the discharge of his duties. The wires of the city, for some cause, were found to be dangerously overcharged, and further danger was averted by shutting down at the power houses.

NOVEMBER.

Nov. 1st—The carpenters of the city quit work in demand of a reduction to eight hours per day—without reduction of pay—in accordance with a notice to that effect two months ago.—First Circuit Judge decrees that Kamalo promoters must pay over $35,000 and restore $120,000 of paid-up stock to the corporation.

3rd—A lively day of the political campaign in rival speeches and ending up with Republican luau.—Enoke, an intoxicated native, falls under the wheels of a King street tram car and is instantly killed.

4th—A Gallician laborer on the cars connected with the naval dredging work at Kakaako fell under the train and both legs were crushed. He was taken to the Queen's Hospital, but died from the shock.

5th—Master and journeyman carpenters compromise, deferring the eight-hour day to December 1st.—Last mass meetings and torchlight processions of the campaign; the Republicans turn out, being the finest demonstration yet seen here.

6th—Election day; everything passes off quietly. Through the increase of voting booths by direction of Governor Dole the crush in the large precincts was avoided. The result on Oahu gave Parker a plurality of over 200 over Wilcox as delegate to Congress, Prince David being distanced. Of Senators and Representatives the Republicans carried all but one of the former ticket and came off with even honors on the latter.

9th—Returns from the other Islands give victory, almost throughout, to the Independents, Wilcox having sufficient gains to overtop Parker's. The complexion of the Legislature promises to be seven Republicans to eight Independents in the Senate, and nine Republicans, twenty Independents and one Democrat in the lower house.

12th—Track laying of the Rapid Transit line begins at last, beginning on Wilder avenue, near Punahou.

What headlong winds that lost their way

At sea, and wailed out for the shore? How shook the Orient doors of day With all this glad, tumultuous roar! Black clouds, shot through with stars of red. Strange stars, storm-born and fire-fed. Lost stars that came and went and came. Such stars as never yet had name. The far sea-lions on their isles Upheaved their huge heads terrified, And moaned a thousand miles.

What fearful battlefield! What space For light and darkness, flame and flood! Let Light and Darkness, face to face, In battle harness battling stood! And how the surges, sea burst upon The sea-girt gates of Oregon! It tore, it tossed the soothing spume, And wailed for room! and room! and room!

It shook the crag-built eagles' nest Until they screamed from out their clouds. Then rocked them back to rest. There may be nothing very brave about wishing for a fair-sized cyclone on this ocean, since we know that we are safe enough, by a rule, but the mad intoxication of such a storm is quite worth the quest. The great delight of it all is when at its worst. For then you know that it is almost over.

Then swift, like some sulked Ajax burst Thro' the Thunder from his battle-line! As if in pent-up, vengeful thirst For blood, the veins of Earth were rent, And sheeted crimson lay, a wedge Of blood below black Thunder's edge. A pause. The typhoon turned, up-swept, And wrestled Death till heaven reeled.

Then lightning reached a fiery red, And on Death's fearful forehead wrote The autograph of God. God's name and face—what need of more? Morn came, calm came, and holy light, And warm, sweet weather, leaning o'er. Laid perfumes on the tomb of night. The thrice-worn birds came dimly back— And housed about the mast in black. And all the tranquil sense of morn Seemed as Dakota's fields of corn. Save that some great, soul-breaking sigh

Now sank the proud ship out of sight, Now sent her to the sky. But let us suppose you have not gone cunning for a typhoon, or what you please to call it, but have gone the placid way of Hawaii. About seven days out and any day is as like the other as any two lovers, after the first plunge, of course, and there lie the dozen little volcanic islands of flame and flowers. The fashion is to write of Hawaii as "The Paradise of the Pacific." Keep the idea out of your head or you will have a sad disappointment. There are a dozen places along the Pacific sea-bank or on the other side, Japan, east or west of Hawaii, better deserving of this alliteration. There is majesty in the cloud-covered peaks of Hawaii. The harbor is beautiful. Here is the land, not the land but the people that Robert Louis Stevenson so adored. But I find the broader, looser, under the Stars and Stripes, than when Stevenson and I tried to live with them and love them a few years back. I hear that they are not so "goody-goody" as they were then. It used to make him cry out to see two devout fat men stroll down the sidewalk, arm in arm, under a big umbrella, and meet women with babes in their arms and maybe two or three little ones clinging to their loose skirts. The great, good men would look straight ahead and go straight ahead. The meek brown mother, with babes in arms and barefooted, would get down from the sidewalk into the muddy street, lift her half-naked children down, one at a time, and stand there until the great and good men, with faces in the air, would pass solemnly on, "saying soles." At least, this is Stevenson's story of it all. But of course they will all "pass on," as he has passed, pretty soon, and even this pleasant stopping place in the sea, these islands of everlasting solitude and sunshine will be freed forever from them and theirs. A word here for Stevenson and his friend, the priest, Father Damien, who died to help the lepers. These two men first made Hawaii really known to civilized man.

TO ROBERT LOUIS STEVENSON. And thou, the pale High Priest of thought, The everlasting thronged king of far Samoa! Shal I bring Sweet sandal-wood? Or shall I lay Rich wreaths of California's Bay From sobbing maidens? Stevenson, Sleep well. Thy work is done, well done! So bravely, bravely done!

TO FATHER DAMIEN. And Moioaka's lord of love, And tenderness and piteous tears For stricken man! Go forth, O dove! With olive branch and still the fears Of those he meekly died to save! They shall not perish. From that grave Shall grow such healing! such as He Gave stricken men by Galilee. Great ocean, cradle, cradle, keep These two, the chosen of thy heart, Rocked in sweet, baby sleep!

And may I here pay tribute to these isles and their perishing, gentle, child-dren? It may not be generally known that they are by nature the finest musicians in the world. They are the true poets, and thus far the only poets of the sea of seas. This mighty world of waters has never yet had its poet. No man has yet laid his hand on the Pacific ocean and its fearful majesty. Stevenson and Stoddard have sung of and celebrated the islands, but the ocean is yet unmeasured—may I say undiscovered—and yet, it is "love's land." I never crossed these waters, especially going out to Japan, without finding bridal parties on board. Ah, it is simply and truly love's land, this ocean.

TO HAWAII. Fair land of flowers, land of fame, Of sun-born seas, of sun-born clime, Of clouds low shepherded and tame. As white pet sheep at shearing time, Of great, white, generous, high-born rain. Of rainbows builded not in vain— Of rainbows builded for the feet Of love to pass, dry-shod and fleet. From life to life, when smell of musk 'Mid twilight is, and one lone star Sits in the brow of dusk.

Oh, dying, sad-voiced, sea-born maid! And plundered dying, still sing on. Thy breast against the thorn is laid— Sing on, sing on, sweet dying swan! How pitiful, and so despoiled! By those you fed, for whom you toiled! Aloha! Hail you and farewell! Far echo of some lost sea-shell! [Some song that lost its way at sea. Some sea-lost notes of nature, lost. That crying, came to me.]

Dusk maid, adieu! One sea-shell best! Sad sea-shell silenced and forgot. O Rachel in the wilderness.

Wall on! Your children they are not. And they who took them, they who laid Hard hand, shall they not feel afraid? Shall they who in the name of God? Robbed and enslaved, escape His rod? Give me some after world afar From these hard men for well I know Hell must be where they are.

Ten days, and now nothing, nothing but the great, still sapphire below, above, moonlight and starlight and sea; sea and starlight and moonlight. Did you ever see Japanese daylight fireworks? We shot a whole barnyard of fowls away up in the air. The French, dancing girls, pigs and other things. Then we had the American eagle, for we were under the Stars and Stripes. We celebrated the Fourth of July. We were in the warm Hawaiian waters, and we celebrated the first Fourth of July this world of waters ever knew under the American flag. That flag was tossed to the breeze amid the boom of guns from the hands of a British officer. We danced, him, we honored him. Yet, I have no use for an Englishman who is not a true Englishman. I have far less use for an American who is not true American and soul a true American. If England wants any American who is not a true American she can have him and welcome. One American was quite enough for America and quite enough for England. Let each loyal man love his own land and its traditions. I have heard great and good men of England say that Bunker Hill and Yorktown and the Fourth of July have done quite as much for England as for America. These brave contests brought out the best of each nation, and these celebrations keep alive the glory and good of each and continually invite to brave and generous deeds. And so long live the Fourth and long live the Queen.

TO OUR FLAG IN HAWAIIAN WATERS. Sail, sail you skies of cobalt blue, O star-bull banner of the brave! We follow you, O flag, we follow you, Or Arctic peak or sapphire wave; From moonlit Maine to dusk Luzon, Or set of sun or burst of dawn.

From Honolulu's Sabbath seas, From battle-torn Manila's bay We toss you bravely to the breeze. This nation's natal day to stay— To stay, to lead, lead up and on Or set of sun or burst of dawn. O ye who fell at Bunker Hill, O ye who fell at Bunker Hill, Behold your stars triumphant still! Behold where Freedom builds her shrine. Where Freedom still leads on and on, Or set of sun or burst of dawn.

It is something to look upon this new-born babe of the mightiest nation that is, as it lies cradled and rocked by the deep of all deeps. Wise men of the East saw the new star in the West and came with increase of love, merch and liberty's sweet spices. May glory and good come of it all. May there be no crown of thorns, no crucifixion here. Yet what a parentage! A giant, savage king, who began life with a war-club and a canoe and closed his career of conquest with cannon and battle-ships; who hewed down the precious forests of sandal-wood, and opened trade with China and garnered his huge subjects in her gaudy silks.

Now, missionaries, the Bible and the plowshares, corn, cane, church spires of the valleys, school houses, homes, with the vine and fig tree climbing the hill and volcanic hillsides, torches on the mountain tops, fleets of commerce flying, white-winged, in and out the harbor of Honolulu.

Then gain, greed! The native, like a silly child, giving his heritage for less than a mess of pottage to a stranger and sitting, a slave, at his feet. Now slavery, such slavery! Such as has not been since Pharaoh's day. Ship-loads on ship-loads of contract coolies from China, herds of little brown creatures from Japan, great, rotten, immigrant hulks from the Azores, all mute, helpless slaves, loaded over by slave-drivers, bound hand and foot to silently toil on or lie down and die in the fields, or fight their drivers with the naked body and empty hand.

This pardoned the masters; and now that liberty has come these men, who have grown rich as never men in gold fields grew rich, are still insisting on having their slaves and treating them as no white man could treat the brute. Only last week two Japanese were shot down. Take care! Japan is not so helpless now.

The honest and hard-tolling ship-loads from the Azores are now another generation and prosperous and happy, and good citizens, but with a hatred of their former oppressors that will last and last.

The Chinese and Japanese are still slaves. The star rose not for them; the stripes are for their backs. The hewn down sandal-wood has never been restored. Hawaii has but the one sweet industry and—slavery.

But the wonderful prosperity of the sugar planter and slave-driver strikes twelve. The broader, richer, deeper soil of the Philippines, if not the flag, will free the mute and friendless contract slaves of Hawaii.

We are not strictly in the Orient, to follow the school-books, till we cross an artificial line about midway of the dozen days' voyage from Honolulu to Yokohama; but nature drew the line between east and west at the Golden Gate. You feel this as you embark on the vast Pacific and you can't divest yourself of that feeling, try as you may.

You drop a day out of your life as you cross the artificial line chasing the sun, and you have two days of the same name and date as you come up from the under seas looking toward the sun.

Long ago as I sailed west in a British ship, we had no Fourth of July and the old skipper thought it a good joke on his American passengers. Recently, some English travelers asked an American captain if there was any way of knowing exactly when we passed out of the Occident into the Orient, and the American assured them that the place was distinctly marked by a red buoy and that he always fired a gun as he passed it. Meantime a red barrel had been prepared. At the signal the barrel was thrown overboard and a gun fired, the ship suddenly veered and there lay the red buoy bobbing on the alleged line.

One of the most notable of all new things in and about the old, old Orient, even from San Francisco to Hongkong, is the ever-present Japanese and Chinese sailors. From a man to be seen, swain, not a white man to be seen, British or American, nothing but silent and industrious little Orientals.

I asked the captain of the Doric, an English Hatterian in the Royal Navy, if duty, and he answered that he had been for the brown men make no trouble, are sober, industrious, and quite equal, as seamen, to white men. He says the brown men will soon displace the white men for the reason that they never go on strikes or make any sort of bother.

I asked the captain of the Rio what he did with his great crew of Chinese when in San Francisco, and he answered: "I go bonds for them and turn

FILTHY WINAM PROPERTY

Board of Health States Its Determination To Carry Out Its Rules.

The matter of the Winam property at Aala on Berefania street, which is said to be in a very insanitary condition, was discussed Saturday afternoon by the Board of Health.

Attorney Judd, representing the owner of the property, stated that while Mr. Winam regretted his many attempts to put his property in better sanitary condition had been practically ineffectual, he was willing to act upon such advice as should be given him in the matter of continued efforts. The rights of his tenants could not be disregarded, and as the buildings were all occupied except two store rooms, Mr. Winam found himself unable to accomplish but very little in improved health facilities.

Following this statement instructions from Attorney General Dole to Dr. James H. Raymond were read. These instructions advised the course of giving notice to the owner, the lessee and the person directly in charge of the property, that unless the nuisance were abated and the place made fit for human habitation within forty-eight hours the law would cause them to vacate, and in case such measure should be necessary to the interest of the public health, the board should have power to remove or destroy the buildings, doing as little damage as possible in the accomplishment of its purpose.

In the notice the insanitary elements should be outlined, and the sources of filth pointed out, for the enlightenment of the persons so notified, and it should also be stated that the improvements were to be made at the expense of the owner of the property.

In support of this course Mr. Dole quoted from an authority:

"Where a public nuisance consists in the location or use of tangible personal property, so as to interfere with or obstruct a public right or regulation, the Legislature may authorize its summary abatement by executive agencies without resort to judicial proceedings, and any injury or destruction of the property necessarily incident to the exercise of the summary jurisdiction interferes with no legal right of the owner."

Mr. Dole believed that where such great and almost irresponsible powers are conferred as those set forth there is carried with them a moral duty to be extremely careful to avoid inflicting any more distress upon persons helpless to resist them than the safety of the public demands.

After a lengthy discussion the board arrived at a resolution declaring the property in question to be unfit for habitation, a menace to public health and a source of endangering filth. The resolution also directed that notices embodying the matter advised by Mr. Dole be sent to each of the owners, lessees and persons in direct charge, and that in accordance therewith the property be vacated at the expiration of the forty-eight hours until such time as the place may be made ready for human habitation. The executive officer was directed to serve these notices upon Winam, Wong Tong, Cheung Jack Kwan, Lun Kow and others having control of or occupying the buildings in question, such service to be made without delay.

It is expected that a similar course will be taken with other disease-breeding buildings and that an energetic crusade will be made in the interest of the public health.

BANKRUPTCY CASE.

First Petition Under New Laws Filed by J. A. Butterfield.

A petition in bankruptcy, the first of the kind under the new laws, was filed Saturday morning in the United States District Court by J. A. Butterfield and the usual course has been taken. Butterfield is a builder and the petition has come about on account of certain blind mortgages on Punahou. The petitioner was the victim of a bigamist and swindler who came through here some years ago, disappearing afterward in the direction of Australia. Butterfield chanced all his fortunes upon some property which was found to be entangled in the meshes of mortgage. The pressing of the claims of mortgages and the cloud on the title of the property rendered the cottages above Punahou practically valueless, and Butterfield found himself seriously "up against it."

The matter was first taken up in the Territorial courts and a sale was ordered on foreclosure of the mortgages. Deputy Sheriff Chillingworth posted the notices of the sale about town, but when the petition of Butterfield was filed Saturday the sale was knocked out. The holders of the mortgages will have to seek such recompense as the law allows at the hands of the United States Court.

The list of liabilities as given by the petitioner amounts to $10,220.21, and his assets are $3,150. The value of the mortgaged property is depreciated by the obligations of the absconder, which Butterfield was compelled to assume.

Judge Estee signed an order referring the matter to Frank D. Thompson, who was sworn in as referee and master in chancery. It is not generally known here that the bankruptcy law is a national one. Such matters can no longer come before the Territorial courts.

RACING ON CHRISTMAS

Sport of Kings at the Hilo Track.

HONOLULANS WIN 3 OF 4

Some Crooked Riding--Mongoose Dies in His Stall From a Broken Neck.

(Special Correspondence.) HILO, Dec. 28.—The Hilo winter racing season was inaugurated on Christmas Day with considerable eclat. The weather was fine and the track good, while the sport throughout was of interesting description.

The Honolulu horses were very successful, winning three out of four races in which they were entered. C. H. Judd drove the winner in two events. Three favorites won and three rank outsiders, the victories of Silas S, Fierro and Rejected being genuine turnups. The pool-selling was as follows: First Race—Admiral Dewey, $10; Daisy Belle, $8. Second Race—Frank S, $10; field (Sir Cassimir and Rejected), $8. Third Race—Vioris, $10; Virgie A, $7. Fourth Race—Tom Ryder, $10; Silas S, $5. Fifth Race—Abbey, $10 field (Bushwhacker and Fierro), $7. Sixth Race—Watassa, $10; Waterfall, $5; Antidote, $3. Seventh Race—Billy McCloskey, $10; Weller, $9; Dixie Land, $4.

SUMMARIES.

HILO, Hoolulu Park, Dec. 25, 1900.—Weather, fine; track, slow. First race, 2:45 class, trotting and pacing; purse $100: Admiral Dewey (Judd) 1 1/2; Daisy Belle (McManus) 2 2. Time, 2:41 1/2, 2:42 1/2; good start; both heats won easily. The Admiral carried too many guns for Daisy. Winner bay gelding aged, owned by W. Varnatta. Second race, half-mile dash; purse $100: Rejected (Thomas) 1; Sir Cassimir (Harry Jones) 2; Frank S (Nichols) 3. Time, 1:57 1/2; start good; won easily by a length and a half, second driving. Rejected trailed till last sixteenth when he shot ahead. The Frank S-Nichols combination won't do. Sir Cassimir not much account. Winner, black gelding aged, owned by C. McEneaney. Third race, one mile dash; purse $125: Vioris (Nichols) 1; Virgie A (Thomas) 2. Time, 1:51; good start; won easily by a length; a callow for Vioris; too far for Virgie. Winner, bay mare, 4 years, by Imp. Duncan-Unknown, owned by Prince David-Sam Parker. Fourth race, free-for-all, trotting and pacing; purse $150: Silas S (Judd) 1 1/2; Tom Ryder (McManus) 2 1 2. Time, 2:27 1/2, 2:42 1/2, 2:26 1/2; first heat won easily; Judd lost a wheel when he had the second heat well in hand. The third heat was well contested but Silas came away when called upon. Winner, brown gelding aged by Silas Skinner, owned by C. H. Judd. Fifth race, half-mile dash; purse $75: Fierro (Thomas) 1; Abbey (Nichols) 2; Bushwhacker (Opio) 3. Time, 1:54 1/2; good start; won driving by half a length, second ridden out; winner untrained ran a smashing good race; Abbey with less alcohol on his back would have won; Bushwhacker a false alarm. Winner, bay gelding, 4 years, by Wild Idle, owned by J. R. Wilson. Sixth race, six furlongs dash; purse $100: Watassa (Thomas) 1; Waterfall (Nichols) 2; Antidote (Opio) 3. Time, 1:22; Antidote left two lengths at start; won in a canter second driving; "Watassa" a good horse and still the pride of the Portuguese colony; Waterfall not himself yet; Antidote outclassed. Winner, chestnut gelding, 4 years, by Watercross-Atossa, owned by J. R. Wilson. Seventh race, one and one-quarter mile; purse $150: Weller (Harry Jones) 1; Billy McCloskey (Thomas) 2; Dixie Land (Nichols) 3. Time, 2:18 1/2; good start; won easily by a length and a half second driving; a grand race; a sheet would have covered them for the first half of the distance; then Dixie Land fell back and Billy took the pole, but Weller came along on the outside and won with the greatest possible ease; Weller's class told; Billy ran as gamely as ever but met his Waterloo; Dixie no business in the race. Winner, chestnut horse, 4 years, by Knight of Allister-Lizzie Pickwick, owned by Prince David-Sam Parker. On New Year's Day a monster all-day meeting will be held commencing at 10 a. m. The following are the program and entries: Free for all, trot and pace, Tom Ryder, Silas S. Half-mile dash, special, Abbey, Bushwhacker, Fierro, Princess Leotus. Six furlongs, Virgie A, Dixie Land. 2:40 class, Admiral Dewey, Daisy Belle, Grey Eagle. Half-mile dash, Sir Cassimir, Rejected, Frank S. Japanese horses' race, owners up, entries close at post. One mile handicap, Vioris 127 pounds, General Cronje 117 pounds. Lunas' race, entries close at post. Pony race, half-mile, 14 1/2 hands and under, Maui Rose, Twinkle. One mile hurdle handicap, Dixie Land 125 pounds, Watassa 126 pounds, Antidote 115 pounds. One and one-half mile handicap, Wel-

THIS morning the bark Olympic, Captain Gibbs, and the schooner Rosamond, Captain Ward, both leave for San Francisco with loads of sugar. Of course it will be a race, and an exciting one at that. In fact, the Olympic and Rosamond are racing all the time. Up to the boat and back again they go, each trying to outdo the other. And they are discharging their cargoes, and race racing, too. There is money to be made here, and it is understood that the skippers themselves have a half a dozen or a few cigars on the issue.

BARKENTINE IRMGARD ARRIVES.
After a rough passage of twenty-three days from San Francisco, the barkentine Irmgard, Captain Schmidt, arrived yesterday afternoon and made fast alongside the Irmgard wharf. She sailed from the Coast on the 7th instant and experienced many heavy head seas and unfavorable winds during most of the trip.

The Irmgard brought a general cargo consigned to F. A. Schaefer & Co. Two passengers arrived here on the barkentine, Miss Johnson and Mr. Milloglav. The Fearless towed the Irmgard into the harbor.

HONEYMOON BARK HERE.
Twenty-four days is not very quick time from San Francisco for a smart craft like the bark R. P. Rithet to make, but the time did not seem so long to Captain McPhail this trip, for he was accompanied by his bride.

The Rithet came into port on Saturday afternoon. A few days after the bark arrived at San Francisco on her last trip, Captain McPhail went to Oakland and was wedded to Miss McIver. The captain's Honolulu friends are congratulating him on his good fortune.

There were others aboard the Rithet on the trip besides the recently married pair. Mrs. G. W. R. King, who left Honolulu for the benefit of her health returned very much the better for her traveling. Miss Elizabeth Quint, of Alameda, was also a passenger, coming down with Mrs. King to visit a few months in this city.

James Vane, on a trip of pleasure and business combined, was also a passenger on the bark.

A very merry Christmas was enjoyed aboard the Rithet.

KILAUEA HOU WRECKED.

Wildier's steamer Kilauea Hou is a wreck at Hilo. She was driven ashore during a heavy gale on Thursday last, in the morning. Every effort was made to save the old boat, but she could not be moved, and when she was last heaped of she was full of water and said.

The Hilo Tribune gives the story of the wreck as follows:

The Kilauea Hou after battling the elements for the last quarter of a century is now a helpless wreck on the Waiakea beach some three-quarters of a mile out of town.

While lying at anchor at her usual mooring Thursday morning about 2 a. m. the little steamer experienced a gale that forced her, in spite of her anchors, high and dry. This took but a short while, and it was impossible to get her under way before the wheel was on the sand.

The Helene worked all day on her but accomplished nothing, the wreck having imbedded itself too deep in the sand. It was hoped that the Kinau would arrive in time to help matters out, but the Kilauea Hou had sprung too many seams, and was half full of water by noon, and would have sunk as soon as she got out of the sand bottom.

As the paper goes to press the officers and their crews are removing all unnecessary material from the doomed boat and will possibly make another attempt to save her when they have lightened her, although it seems but little use, as sand has generally formed around the vessel, as she lies almost bow on to the land.

The Kilauea Hou was the oldest of Wildier's steamboats. She was built in 1878 by Tibbets and Sorenson, her frame being of koa wood. The Kinau which brought the news of the wreck, also brought all of the crew of the Kilauea Hou to Honolulu, with the exception of the first officer, who remains in Hilo in charge of the vessel.

AMY TURNER WINS.

HILO, Dec. 28.—Considerable interest was manifested in Hilo by the friends of the masters of the Amy Turner and Roderick Dhu, and much money was placed on the result of the voyage of the vessels from San Francisco to Hilo. They left port nearly at the same time on December 2, and when a short distance out the Roderick passed the Amy. The Kalulani for Honolulu had preceded them, and the Amy soon passed her. On the second day Captain Warland steered his bark to the westward, and Captain Johnson to the southward and they parted company. The Amy Turner arrived in port on Friday evening, and the Roderick Dhu shortly after noon on Christmas day, or four days behind her rival. Captain Johnson explains his defeat by saying that at this season of the year the fair winds are encountered further south, but instead of finding them he had nothing but head winds the entire distance. Captain Warland had about a five-mile breeze all the way along. The Amy Turner, under Captain Warland, has for five years past held the record voyage from Hongkong to Baltimore. She left Hongkong December 13, 1894, with a cargo of Chinese goods, and the next day had her foremast carried away in a typhoon. Repairs were made and she anchored off Anzer for twenty-two hours taking in supplies, and then started on her voyage, reaching port in eighty-seven days, and even this has not been beaten. The distance was more than 14,000 miles.

SHIPPING NOTES.

Tomorrow the Gaelic is due from the Orient. She takes the next mail to the Coast.

The Zealandia is due to arrive from San Francisco on Wednesday with four days' later news and mail.

The transport Thomas, Captain Burford, sailed for Manila on Saturday.

The German bark J. C. Glade, Captain Stege, sailed for the Sound on Saturday.

The transport Kintuck was only ten days, actually, on her way from Seattle to this port, having, after her departure from Seattle, put in at Port Townsend and Port Angeles on account of the storm raging outside.

Steamer Noeau left for Kauai with the schooner Fannie Adele in tow on Saturday afternoon.

Wildier's steamer Kinau arrived with the usual number of passengers from Hilo and way ports on Saturday.

Icarus, the British sloop of war left the harbor yesterday morning on a secret mission. Her destination is unknown. She is expected to return in several weeks.

Island steamers Claudine, W. G. Hall and Ke Au Hou, arrived in port yesterday morning with full cargoes of sugar. The Hall and Ke Au Hou immediately proceeded to unload into the schooner Rosamond in the stream.

The following cargo was brought by the Kinau on Saturday: 200 bundles of corrugated iron, 45 hogs, 30 sacks of potatoes, 2 horses, 205 packages of sundries.

The steamer Maui, which arrived on Saturday from Kaanapali, brought 5,000 bags of sugar for the bark Olympic. She brought the schooner Golden Gate in tow.

Refrigerating Paint.

GENTLEMEN:—It affords me great pleasure to say, that our iron roof, 1,400 square yards, covered by your "Arabic" Compound is very satisfactory. The heat under our roof before you painted it, was almost unbearable, now it feels like an ice house compared to what it was. It is more than 15 DEGREES COOLER. I can recommend the "Arabic" to those who want cool iron roofs.

NOW OPEN TO BIDDERS
 Competition In Molokai Transportation.

HEALTH BOARD'S ACTION
 Tenders for Carrying Freight and Passengers to Leper Settlement Asked.

Wilder's Steamship Company is combating complaints which have been sent to the Board of Health concerning that company's steamship service between Honolulu and the Leper Settlement on Molokai in the carrying of the settlement's supplies. In the Board of Health meeting Saturday the matter was brought up again by a fresh complaint originating at the settlement. At a board meeting held nearly two weeks since, President Wight of the steamer company made his position known by a letter to the board which contained a synopsis of the difficulties with which the company had to contend in performing the steamer work for the health department. He stated then that Superintendent Reynolds was not in a position to judge of the conditions which could best be met by the company, and related circumstances about the changes in the weather, schedules and other incidents relative to the carrying of the cattle. The board decided that as the matter was one which would be set right by action of the Legislature, the board would let the question of a change in transportation companies rest with that body.
 The Hawaiian Navigation Company, operating the gasoline schooners Eclipse and Surprise, in response to an invitation to make a tender for transportation service, stated they would do all the work required by the board, for $800 a month. At Saturday's meeting President Raymond of the Board of Health, said he believed a saving could be made by employing one of the boats of the Hawaiian Navigation line, which would be in line with his economical program. He felt certain that this company could handle the cattle, and he moved that the company be asked to make a tender for the transportation of cattle to Molokai for the use of the settlement. He said that in the past no contract had been let for this work, and that the company had been paid from month to month. A motion to call for bids from all the steamship companies was made and passed unanimously.
 Bids for supplies for both the Leper Settlement and the Insane Asylum have been asked for in the past few months, and competition has been keen, as judged by the quotations. The bids for all tenders of supplies were opened at Saturday's meeting, and much of the session was devoted to studying out the bids and ascertaining who were the successful bidders. All kinds of commodities were on the lists. Following are some of the successful bidders for the things most used:
 Allen & Robinson, doors, etc., $1.80; Ochu Lumber Company, windows, etc., $1.75; Pacific Hardware Company, nails, $3.15; Pacific Hardware Company, boiled oil, 50 cents; Hall & Son, white lead, 8 cents; Pacific Hardware Company, turpentine, 70 cents; Hackfeld & Co., cement, $3.40; Hackfeld & Co., lime, $2.00; Allen & Robinson, galvanized iron roofing, 3 1/2 cents; May & Co., bran, $2.30; May & Co., coffee, 11 cents; Inter-Island Steamship Company, coal in sacks, $10.50 and $12.50; Pacific Hardware Company and H. Hackfeld & Co., kerosene, $2.25; J. A. Hopper, rice, $5.20; Henry May & Co., sugar, 4 1/2 cents; Hackfeld & Co., beef, $15.20.
 Executive Officer Pratt was given authority to select the flour for use in both places, acting upon the recommendations of the Food Commissioner, who will examine the samples of flour offered by the bidders.
 Hackfeld's bill for a quantity of rice furnished during the plague quarantine to one of the camps, brought out considerable discussion. The bill was for $295.50, but had never received the endorsement of any one who would admit he was responsible for the order. Attorney A. L. C. Atkinson, representing Hackfeld, was given an opportunity to present his side of the case. The Board came to no conclusion as to the responsible person, and took the matter under advisement. The question of the Board's liability in the matter was raised and the Attorney General will be given an opportunity to advise the Board on that point.
 Bill for drugs furnished the Free Kindergarten, which has come up before the Board before, was considered and disposed of. It will be paid, but the Board was of an opinion that no more bills of the Kindergarten would be paid out of its funds. A motion to this effect prevailed.
 Ten lepers at the Kalia Receiving Station, who have been reported as incurables, were ordered sent to Kalaupapa.

THE HAIR BRUSH.
 Breeds Dandruff, Which Causes Falling Hair and Finally Baldness.
 Prof. Unna, Hamburg, Germany, European authority on skin diseases, says that dandruff is as contagious as any other malevolent disease and that one common source of the spread of dandruff is the use of the same hair brush by different persons. The way to avoid catching dandruff or any other disease from another's brush is to insist on the use of Newbro's Herpicide. It not only kills the dandruff germ, but it is also an antiseptic that will prevent the catching of any disease whatever through contagion of another's brush.

W. J. T. Rickard, son of the late W. H. Rickard, and Miss Theres E. Webster will be married at Honokaa today.

QUEEN SOLD HER AUTOS

Haili Church Fair and
Luau a Success.

FUND OF $2,217 RAISED

Liloukalani's Signature on Ribbons Brought $1.25 Each at Hilo.

HILO, Hawaii, Dec. 28.—The fair and luau for the benefit of the organ fund held on the grounds of Haili Church last Saturday was the most successful ever held on the Islands, says the Herald. Among the patronesses were Queen Liloukalani, Mrs. J. L. Richardson, Mrs. James Campbell and Mrs. Joseph Nawahi, and their interest in the affair guaranteed the success of the undertaking.

A lanai 40 x 84 feet was erected on the makai side of the building, and tables for the display of articles made by Hawaiians were placed on three sides. At one end, partitioned off, was set the luau. Fancy articles, masks and hats were sent from all parts of the group, and these were sold by young ladies interested in the welfare of the church. The Queen presided over a table at which printed hat ribbons were sold, and at the suggestion of some one, she placed her autograph on each with an indelible pencil. The ribbons brought $1.25 each, and the result of the sale was satisfactory. Mrs. J. L. Richardson, who had charge of the Kona hat table, sold to the value of $375.35, being the largest sum realized at any one table. Mrs. Campbell at the fancy work table came next.

The luau was excellent, the food being of great variety and cooked. The poi was made by Kalua, of Maui, and the Lyman ranch was the largest pig on the island. There was more than enough for the hands of the organ and the pairs to the parishioners.

THE HEITMANN CONCERT.
Professor Heitmann is to be complimented on the excellence of the program presented at the concert at Haili Church on Friday night. The numbers were well selected and well rendered.

Particularly is this the case in the concerted pieces. The orchestra composed of amateurs trained by the professor won plaudits from everyone present. The duet by Mrs. Lewis and Professor Heitmann was well rendered and deserved all the applause accorded.

The Honolulu Quintet Club was present and sang three Hawaiian songs. The audience would have liked more, but the boys were tired out and failed to respond to the request. The church was not crowded, probably because so short notice was given and owing, also, to the Sunday school entertainment at the Foreign Church. It is possible that another concert will be given in January.

SABBATH SCHOOL SUPPER.
Each Christmas celebration at the Foreign Church contains features new to the children, and even to the parents. This year the program included a collation, and the arrangements were in the hands of Mesdames Guard, Gibb and Mason. The affair was a perfect success in every way. Two tables extending the entire length of the Sabbath school room were loaded down with cakes and boxes, and at each plate was a bottle of soda water. The room was illuminated by a hundred or more candles on the tables and in the center of the room was a stand containing several dozen of lighted candles of the Christmas tree variety.

As early as 5:30 quite a number of children had assembled in front of the church waiting the arrival of their teachers. When everything was ready Mrs. Terry, the superintendent, gave the word and the children marched in and took their places. They were served with ice cream and cakes until they groaned for greater capacity. After refreshments had been disposed of the children listened to a improvised play which would be opened for the delivery of packages for the children. A window, and as the children presented themselves they were handed their presents. This style of Christmas entertainment was much enjoyed.

BOXING CONTEST.
A boxing contest of ten rounds has been arranged for New Year's night between Jack McDonald and Billy Harris. Both men have excellent records—McDonald having beaten the best middleweight fighters on the Coast; while Harris has proved himself to be invincible among the boxers of Southern California. Both men are in fine condition, and there is every assurance that the boxing will be of high and finished order. The bout will take place in Spreckels' Hall at 8:30 p. m., Tuesday, Matt Sarly, Prince David's trainer, is boxing after Harris, and Mr. Jones is performing the same office for McDonald.

HAWAII BRIEFS.
Manager Wilton has decided next to have any races on Wednesday next, but instead, will have a monster program on New Year's day. That will be the greatest racing day Hilo has ever enjoyed.

The lease of the Terry premises, corner Punaehaui and Front streets, was bought at auction by Ben B. Rothers last Saturday. There was plenty of Hilo money on hand for the races, but the Honolulu sports held their own for the New Year's events. Mrs. Fassett, mother of Mr. Hilo, accompanied by Mrs. E. N. Turner, arrived from San Francisco on Tuesday. W. H. Cornwell and J. M. Parker are expected to attend the Year's day. Representative N. H. Parker are races on New Year's day.

The Queen and party entertained Christmas party at dinner on the island. The wife of a child of Rev. Baptist ministers to the Coast by the name of Lillokalani. Mrs. Lillokalani is so pleased with the property of Hilo that she may buy a house here and erect a home. Hilo and family returned to Honolulu on Tuesday by the Rodrick Dau. They have been visiting in San Francisco.

POOR OLD EUGENIE.

The ex-Empress Eugenie is described in her home in Farnborough, Surrey, as a sad, white haired old woman, bent with rheumatism and spending most of her time in prayer. She is too infirm now to sit in the sanctuary of the big white church near the mausoleum she had built and under which are two large sarcophagi in red granite, laden with wreaths of immortelles, each bearing a card on which a royal autograph is seen. She has endowed and entirely supports the monastery. Three black robed Benedictine monks pray constantly for the souls of Napoleon and the prince imperial. The anniversary of the death of the young prince imperial is a day of broken hearted sorrow to the Empress, who, indeed, mourns her double loss every hour of her sad life. Her face is the saddest one can possibly imagine. Always, even in the zenith of her power, a charitably disposed woman, she is now a benefactress to the poor within her range.

THE HOLIDAY FESTIVITIES

Polo Game on the Sunnyside Grounds at Paia--Dr. Beckwith

III.

(Special Correspondence.)

WAILUKU, Maui, Dec. 29.—A society reporter would find much to write about in Makawao district during the holiday season.

Thursday, Miss Forbes, the teacher of the Hamakuapoko Kindergarten, had a tree on which was some little gift for every pupil. During the 21st, Miss Mosser had a tree for her pupils of the Paia Kindergarten.

On Sunday, Mrs. Austin, principal of the Wailuku government school, held closing exercises, in which Christmas was the theme. While the children were singing a song about Santa Claus coming, surely he did appear at the window to the great excitement of all the little ones, and he had a gift for everybody. Either on Christmas eve or on Christmas day, elaborate dinner parties and gorgeous trees were enjoyed at the residences of Mr. and Mrs. A. Baldwin of Hamakuapoko, Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Aiken of Makawao, Mr. Alexander McKibben of Makawao, and others.

During Christmas night a large tree for Maunaloa Seminary girls was held in Baldwin Hall. The tree was hung with bags of candy, peanuts, cakes, etc., and one hundred hand-mirrors, gifts to the girls, reflected the lights of many candles. A large and attractive tree pleased the members of the Sunday school of Paia Foreign Church.

Christmas afternoon a polo game took place on the Sunnyside grounds, Paia. After a lively contest, Messrs. W. O. Aiken, D. T. Fleming and J. Ritchie won over Messrs. D. C. Lindsay, H. A. Baldwin and F. A. Alexander.

Invitations have been issued to an "At Home" by Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Lowrie of Spreckelsville, December 31, 1900, which means dancing the old year out and the new year in.

GENERAL NOTES.

Mr. and Mrs. William Coffee of California are guests of Mr. and Mrs. David Center of Spreckelsville. They both have been residents of Maui.

Dr. E. G. Beckwith of Paia was seriously ill with heart trouble during the 22d, 23d and 24th. His many friends felt exceedingly anxious concerning him.

Sunday, the 23d, Mr. R. F. Engle read one of Phillip Brook's sermons at the Paia Church.

Dr. Beckwith is now slowly recovering.

Mrs. A. N. Kepoikai, of Wailuku, has for sale some most beautiful sofa pillows, embroidered on satin. The proceeds are to be used for the benefit of the Haili Church, of Hilo.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Nishwitz are at the Windsor Hotel, Wailuku. They were formerly teachers of the Kealahou school, of Kula, but next year will teach a government school on Oahu.

Messrs. S. R. Dowdle and D. T. Fleming, of Makawao, departed on an outing to Hana, via the crater of Haleakala.

Today a party on horseback went to Ulupalakua. They will be guests of Mr. L. R. Crook for a night, and return on the 30th. In the party are Messdames Aiken and Cox, Misses Edith Alexander and Dolly Sumner, Messrs. Aiken, Cox and Alexander.

The Maui Drug Company expected to open their new store in Wailuku with a grand display of Christmas novelties, but as their building was not completed in time, the goods purchased had to be sold in San Francisco at a sacrifice.

During the 27th, Dr. Robert McKibbin arrived on Maui, per Claudine, to take up a permanent residence in Makawao, where a pretty cottage has been recently built for him.

By the same steamer, Miss Minnie Bailey, of Oakland; Messrs. W. O. Smith and J. P. Cooke, of Honolulu, also came to Maui. They were entertained by the H. A. Baldwin's, of Hamakuapoko. The two gentlemen returned to Honolulu today.

Miss Dolly Sumner, of Hilo, is spending the holidays with her cousin, Miss Edith Alexander, of Kaluanui.

Weather: Very cold for the last day or two; 56 degrees at 7 a. m. at an elevation of 1,500 feet.

Saved a Leg and Made a Discovery

"When the late Dr. Lewis A. Sayre, the eminent New York surgeon, was a young medical student at the College of Physicians and Surgeons in New York one of the operating physicians was about to cut off an Irishman's leg, but before beginning the operation gave a long talk to the students on amputation. The Irishman lay on the operating table in full possession of his faculties, and as he listened to the discourse he grew whiter and whiter. Finally he jumped from the operating table crying, 'Get me me breeches, be rob! I'll die with me leg on!' And with that he was out of the room. Dr. Sayre found him several days later with his knee badly swollen. The young doctor promptly cut open the knee, but saved the leg. One day he had no lint to bind the wound, so he used the tow stuffing sticking out of an old horsehair sofa. When he called again he found the wound so much improved that he resorted that tow, dipped in Peruvian balsam, would not only disinfect a wound, but would keep it free from pus. This, according to the Army and Navy Journal, was the foundation of one of the most satisfactory successes he ever had in surgery. It was the means of introducing into the Army the use of tarred hemp, or oakum, as a dressing for wounds."

Genero is Sir Arthur.

Of the late Sir Arthur Sullivan's charitable doing many instances are forthcoming. One secretary of a Sunday school in a poor Westminster district relates that he risked a penny stamp on an appeal to Sir Arthur for a subscription to the school's annual day in the country. There was no special claim on the musician, but the latter saw a half-guinea, and thereafter never forgot to repeat the gift year by year.

ICARUS SAILORS ARE UNDEFEATED

The Honolulu Eleven Only Stand off the Tars at Makiki.

The sailors of the Icarus played the last of their matches in Association football against the local teams on Saturday last. In the contest against England and Scotland they had asserted their superiority, and it was anticipated that Saturday's game, when they encountered the full strength of Honolulu, would present them with their first defeat.

This was, however, not the case, as after a hardy fought game the best local League representatives could do was to make a draw. The toss was won by Lieut. Pichard, who was skipper of the Icarus crew, and the town team had to commence with the rays of a declining sun in their eyes. The game had been in progress but a short time when Stokes, playing center half, placed the town in an advantageous position with a scored goal. The ball was set in motion again and a fine exhibition of the game was given, the sailors perhaps showing the better combination.

The Honolulu forwards, however, worked hard and, playing an effective game, forced an unproductive corner. They were, however, not to be denied and shortly afterwards Smithies increased the score. The sailors' attack became more determined, and before the call of half time had lessened their deficit. Half time score:

HONOLULU 2.
ICARUS 1.

After the interval the tars started off in great style and before long had again placed the ball through the town's defense. The score was now equal, and great efforts were made by either side to win. The sailors for some time appeared likely to again claim a victory and continually bombarded the Honolulu goal. Fenwick, however, defended in excellent shape and kept his charge intact. At the call of time the score stood at:

HONOLULU 2.
ICARUS 2.

The Icarus team has proved itself a reliable combination. The sailors expect to be back here in about three months and the season's practice should place the town in a position to inflict a decisive defeat upon them.

Honolulu—Forwards, Smithies, Bottomley, Davies, Blackman, Manuel Anderson; halfbacks, Stokes, Parish, D. Anderson; backs, McGill, Soper; goal, Fenwick.

NOTES.

Saturday's goals were obtained by Stokes and Smithies.

The goal on Christmas Day in the Scotland and Icarus match was shot by Kay, who is becoming an aggressive forward.

The men who were left out from the League team have challenged Saturday's eleven. The match will take place at 5 o'clock on Thursday next and promises to be a fast one.

Next Saturday sees the first League contest—England vs. Scotland. Both teams will turn out in all the pomp and circumstance of war—to wit, their new uniforms—and the game will be, without doubt, the most closely contested that has yet been witnessed.

T. Andrews is away in the Volcano Island.

Bob Anderson, who has been celebrating away, has returned to his own again.

Mr. Ault has written to say that he will be down from Wailuku to take part in the English vs. Scotland match.

G. Davies and Bottomley did great things in the forward line against Icarus.

Fenwick is perhaps the most reliable custodian in Honolulu.

Cockburn refereed in excellent style and held the game well in hand.

Give Him A Pipe

He will appreciate a good one, such as you can buy at Nolte's. Perhaps he would prefer a nice, genuine Meerchaum, with a silver ferule and amber mouth-piece; or, should his taste incline toward French Briar, we can show you an immense variety of good ones to choose from.

The prices reasonable but too varied to mention in an advertisement. Come and see the goods. They are sure to please you. We have a full stock of smokers' supplies.

Briar Pipes, Meerchaum Pipes, Cherry Pipes, German Pipes, ... Tobacco Pouches ... Cigar and Cigarette Holders in Amber and Meerchaum—Gold and Silver Tipped.

NOW FOR YOUR Holiday Gifts In the FURNITURE LINE

Do not wait until the last day before you call around and make a selection, as you may be disappointed to learn that the article you desire has been sold. We will reserve the piece of furniture for you until the proper time comes in which to make the gift.

WE HAVE A CHIFFONIER of a tremendous size—FOUR LARGE AND TWO SMALL DRAWERS. This is one of the most beautiful Chiffoniers ever shipped to Honolulu. It is not fanciful in design, nor is it elaborately carved. But what it lacks in these qualities is more than made up by the beautifully mirror-like polish in golden oak and excellent cabinet work.

Other Chiffoniers of a smaller size in mahogany, mahogany finish and golden oak.

SMOKER'S TABLE—A neat gift to a gentleman. This table consists of a moistened box for cigars, a cutter, two cellars, and an electric battery to light the cigars.

ANOTHER GIFT FOR A GENTLEMAN is a SHAVING STAND, or a CELLERETTE. These Cellerettes are for cards, etc.

LADIES' DRESSING TABLES in bird's-eye maple and oak, with oval mirrors of the best make.

LADIES' DESKS—Mahogany, golden oak, and birds-eye maple. A very appropriate gift to a young wife.

PARLOR CHAIRS from one of America's largest and best known factories.

JUST ONE—It is a handsome burnt-wood stand called the King Coal. Look at it and you will wish it was yours.

AND MANY OTHER THINGS, such as LIBRARY TABLES, TABOURETTES, SETTEES, SECRETARY BOOK CASES, LADIES' TRIPLE MIRRORS, MAHOGANY PARLOR CABINETS, CORNER CHINA CLOSETS, SIDEBORDS, PEDESTALS, ASSORTED WICKER-WARE in Chairs, Rockers and Settees.

You cannot help but find something that you need for your house or that will make a holiday gift to a friend or relative.

Wichman with the latter's violin and pianoforte accompanists, Mr. Paul Egry and Miss Caroline Castle. Also of the accompaniments and masterly solo organ work of Prof. A. B. Ingalls throughout the day.

Found an Intruder.

George Robinson, the night watchman on Nuuanu street, detected a suspicious character at an early hour prowling about the building occupied by Lovejoy & Co. He followed the man upstairs and saw him enter one of the upstairs storerooms by a window which opened on the rear balcony. Robinson went to the police station and found Deputy Sheriff Chillingworth. The two went back to the building, and cautiously entered the room by the same window. By means of a hand electric light, the intruder's coat was found lying near the window, and the owner was quickly discovered hiding in a corner with his hat pulled down over his face. He was taken in charge by the deputy sheriff, who booked him at the station for investigation. He was a white man. His case will come up in police court this morning.

Watch Night Service.

The Watch Night service at the Central Union tonight will be opened by an organ recital, Prof. A. B. Ingalls being the soloist. His selections will be made from the following list: "March of the Priests" (Athalie) Mendelssohn "The Lost Chord" Sullivan "Nocturne" (Op. 9, No. 2) Chopin "Nocturne" (Op. 3, No. 1) Chopin "Pilgrim's Chorus" Wagner "Maestoso molto moderato" Guilmant "Melody" Guilmant "Gloria Adimant" Rossini "Elevation" Th. BIG FIRE IN PALAMA

Four Chinese Stores In Ashes.

WAS OPIUM THE CAUSE?

Some Fear That Lives May Have Been Lost in the Flames.

The deep-toned whistles sounded the alarm of fire about 2 o'clock this morning and the city was startled by the rush of excited crowds through the streets going in the direction of Palama.

The sky was made brilliant in that direction by leaping flames and vast volumes of smoke hovered over them like a cloud. It was reported that the carstables of the Tramways Company were blazing.

It took the department only a few moments to respond to the alarm and in less time than it takes to tell it the engines were on the way to the scene of the conflagration.

Four large stores on King street, opposite the new pumping station, were on fire and rapidly being destroyed by the devouring flames.

The fire had only about twenty minutes' start before it was discovered in the second of the four stores, nearest the Waikiki end.

When the engines arrived upon the scene these four stores were wrapped in scorching flame. It was with great difficulty that the intrepid firemen could get near enough to bring their hose into play.

Soon several powerful streams were at work, however, though they were of no use as far as saving the buildings were concerned. Rather did the firemen turn their attention to seeing that none of the surrounding houses took fire.

The four stores were full of people when the fire was discovered. There was a panic when the alarm of fire was given, and men, women and children came tumbling out of the frail wooden structures with thoughts for no one but themselves.

A few made hasty attempts at saving some of their property, and the usual scenes, half sad, half ludicrous, were witnessed, of people saving the most worthless articles.

People in the surrounding houses also hurried out of doors, moving with everything, so afraid were they that the flames would reach their homes.

And good cause had they for fear, for the fire was a hot one and a quick one and it took not more than thirty minutes after the engines had arrived for the four two-story buildings to be nothing but a heap of ashes.

An Advertiser reporter arrived upon the scene with the engines and interviewed some of the Chinese who had been burned out of house and home.

There were some thirty or forty of those who had lived in the destroyed structures. They were anxiously looking around for one or two of their number. They did not know but what they had perished in the flames, and indeed it was impossible to ascertain last night whether any lives had been lost or not, so sudden was the fire, so fierce was it while it lasted, and so soon was it all over.

It was said that the fire was started by the overturning of a small lamp used by an opium fiend, and it was thought by some that, inasmuch as the fire was not discovered until it had gotten good headway, it was very probable that the smoker of the stupefying drug had been roasted alive in the flames.

The work of the firemen was well done and they did noble work in saving surrounding property from destruction. The heat was intense. The paint on buildings across the road was blistered and in many places burned off. The greatest danger was to the carstables right next to the burning stores. They were badly scorched and two or three times fire started among hay and feed stored there, but it was extinguished before any great damage was done.

An electric wire fell to the ground in front of the blazing edifice and some brilliant fireworks were seen in addition to the great blaze of the fire itself.

None dared venture near the live wire on the ground for fear of death. When the wire fell, however, the hose had to be gotten quickly out of the way or it would have been ruined.

The sight in the immediate vicinity of the fire reminded one of the great fire in Chinatown, for all around whole families in all conditions of dress and excitement were clumped upon their houses and goods, while men rushed hither and thither throwing buckets of water upon the sides and roofs of their dwellings.

Two trams were sent, from where they had been standing at the entrance to the carstables, hurrying down the street out of the way of the fire. They had to pass through the flames and were badly scorched.

Notwithstanding the hour there was a great crowd to witness the conflagration.

Three of the stores burned had been occupied by Law Chong, Low Kai and Hong Wing Sang; the other had been occupied by Japanese. It was in the Colonies store of Cheong Wing Gong that the fire was said to have started.

Luna's Story. Several Portuguese lunas at Kaanapali went on a Christmas spree and had some trouble with the head luns, Hansburg, who has the whole lot, says the Maui News. One of them came to Waikuku and reported that a general strike was on among the lunas and men at Lahaina. Considerable worry was felt in Waikuku until the truth was ascertained.

ROMEO AND JULIET AT SEA.

What this wild and the waves did not do to the good bark R. P. Rithet on her rough trip down from the Coast certain young men on the vessel, one a passenger, and one interested in the packet, made up for with good measure. They kept all heads and the cook aboard in fits of merry laughter all the way down, and those who were passengers did not even have time to be seasick.

"Barney," a handsome and mysterious young man from Oakland, was so full of spirits that it was thought advisable at one time to put him in irons, and he barely escaped this indignity by the pathetic pleadings of one of the lady passengers.

Captain McPhail had his bride aboard, and the newly-married couple monopolized each other's company to such an extent that the rest of the people aboard had things pretty much their own way.

One of the young lady passengers had never been to sea before, and the young men undertook to initiate her into the mysteries of the deep. It was her dearest wish to catch some flying fish with a hook, so "Barney" hunted around and, after obtaining a large shark hook, fastened about five fathoms of two-inch line to the implement, and then baited the hook with a hunk of salt pork.

After preparing everything "Barney" went into the galley and had a good laugh all by himself until he felt relieved and in condition to face the young lady without breaking into smiles and then took her the fishing gear. The innocent one stood on the forecastle head for hours that day, thinking every time the force of the vessel going through the water made the hook and line act as if there were a fighting fish on the end of it that she had a big catch.

The trip was a long one and something had to be done to pass the time away. Private theatricals were indulged in early in the game, and it became so that the people aboard were afterwards known by the names of the characters which they represented.

"Romeo and Juliet" was one of the plays they indulged in.

Christmas was not forgotten, and was celebrated in a very appropriate manner. The following notes which were taken from a diary of the trip may prove of interest. The diary was found floating in the harbor by one of the boat-boys and given to an Advertiser reporter:

"Barney" catches a goney, much to the pleasure of Juliet, but, while Juliet goes for an express tag the bird escapes. Juliet is mad. Hence "Barney" let "have it out." Juliet wins.

As day comes in cloudy with rain, it does not dampen the spirits of Romeo and "Barney" who, after two days' labor with sticks and straws, rig up a Christmas tree worthy of the best drapers of Hawaii. Each of the passengers and officers receives a valuable and useful present—wooden cigars, safety-pins, powder and paint brushes, and other interesting and touching souvenirs. The evening was spent amid roars of laughter terminating with a tannic supper with ginger ale. What funny stories could be told of the ramblings of Romeo and Juliet.

The scene at the port was a splendid substitute for the balcony scene.
