Chancellor Michael Amiridis

Michael Amiridis took office as chancellor of the University of Illinois at Chicago in March 2015. His appointment was formally approved by the University of Illinois Board of Trustees at its Jan. 15, 2015, meeting.

For over two decades as a professor, researcher and senior administrator on a flagship research campus, he established a proven record of building academic and research excellence.

Prior to arriving at UIC, Amiridis served from 2009 to 2015 as executive vice president for academic affairs and provost at the University of South Carolina at Columbia, where he oversaw all academic functions on the university's flagship campus and at four, two-year regional campuses. He also shared responsibility for coordinating all budget and capital planning functions.

As provost, Amiridis created an "academic dashboard" to help chart the campus's strategy for growth and excellence by comparing its performance to peer institutions in key areas such as enrollment, research funding, graduation rates and student-faculty ratios. He helped develop a plan that earned board of trustees funding for 200 new tenure and tenure-track positions.

Before being named provost, Amiridis was dean of South Carolina's College of Engineering and Computing from 2006 to 2009, and chair of the department of chemical engineering from 2002 to 2006. He joined the Columbia campus as a professor of chemical engineering in 1994.

His research interests focus on the synthesis and catalytic characterization of bimetallic nanoparticles with controlled composition and architecture. He has received more than $15 million in research funding as a principal investigator and more than $9 million as a co-investigator.

He earned the National Science Foundation's award for early-career scientists and engineers in 1999, the University of South Carolina's research achievement award in 2005, and the university's Golden Key Award for Integration of Undergraduate Teaching and Research in 2000.

Amiridis' work has resulted in 102 peer-reviewed journal publications and he received awards for teaching excellence at South Carolina and as a graduate instructor at Wisconsin. He was elected a fellow of the American Association for the Advancement of Science in 2012.

He is a member of the American Institute of Chemical Engineers, the American Chemical Society, the American Society for Engineering Education and the North American Catalysis Society.

Earlier in his career, Amiridis was a research engineer for three years at W.R. Grace and Co., an international manufacturer of specialty chemicals and materials, and a lecturer at Johns Hopkins University in Baltimore.

A native of Greece and a U.S. citizen, Amiridis earned his undergraduate degree in chemical engineering from Aristotelian University of Thessaloniki in Greece, and his Ph.D. in chemical engineering from the University of Wisconsin at Madison.

He and his wife, Ero Aggelopoulou-Amiridis, have two children.

THIS IS UIC

The University of Illinois at Chicago is an acclaimed research institution with 15 colleges dedicated to the discovery and distribution of knowledge.

The University of Illinois at Chicago traces its origins to several private health colleges that were founded in Chicago during the 19th century.

In the 20th century, new campuses were built in Chicago and later joined together to form a comprehensive learning community. In the last three decades, UIC has transformed itself into one of the top 60 research universities in the United States.

UIC, as it stands today, was born in 1982, when the Circle and Medical Center campuses consolidated to form a comprehensive university campus with six health science colleges and an academic medical center. Consolidation helped UIC reach elite Carnegie "Research I" status.

In 1993, then-UIC Chancellor (and later UI President) James Stukel launched the Great Cities Initiative to join UIC teaching and research with community, corporate and government partners in tackling urban challenges. Renamed the Great Cities Commitment at its ten-year mark, the signature program integrates research with genuine community engagement.

UIC's newest residence hall opened in 2007 and was the capstone of UIC's South Campus development, a public-private partnership that brought student housing, retail stores, restaurants and private residences to the historic Maxwell Street neighborhood. The influx of faculty and staff families and the expansion of student housing helped UIC change from a daytime commuter campus into a vibrant, 24-hour academic community. Today, about half of UIC freshmen and one-fourth of undergraduates live on campus.

UIC'S MISSION

- To create knowledge that transforms our views of the world and, through sharing and application, transforms the world.
- To provide students of all backgrounds with the educational opportunity only a leading research university can offer.
- To address the challenges and opportunities facing not only Chicago but all Great Cities of the 21st century, as expressed by our Great Cities Commitment.
- To foster scholarship and practices that reflect and respond to the increasing diversity of the U.S. in a rapidly globalizing world.
- To train professionals in a wide range of public service disciplines, serving Illinois as the principal educator of health science professionals and as a major health care provider to underserved communities.

Director of Intercollegiate Athletics Michael Lipitz

THIRD YEAR AT UIC // MARYLAND '96

Chancellor Michael Amiridis named Michael Lipitz the University of Illinois at Chicago's Director of Intercollegiate Athletics on October 15, 2019, pending approval by the University of Illinois Board of Trustees. Lipitz has more than 20 years of intercollegiate athletics experience, including leadership positions at North Carolina State University and the University of Maryland.

"Michael possesses the passion and experience to foster the academic success of our student-athletes, improve their overall experience, and lead the Department in achieving competitive excellence," said Amiridis.

Lipitz joins the Flames after eight years at North Carolina State University, a Division I, Atlantic Coast Conference (ACC) program, with 250 employees, 23 sports and 550 student-athletes. As deputy athletics director, he was responsible for the daily operations of the department and oversaw personnel and legal matters for athletics, capital projects, facilities and operations, equipment, championships and special events. He also supervised the football, women's basketball and men's and women's tennis programs.

Lipitz led a number of major initiatives at NC State, including: the $35 million renovation of the historic Reynolds Coliseum to enhance seating, infrastructure and fan amenities; the construction of the $14 million Close-King Indoor Practice Facility to serve football, track and field, and other sports; and the creation of the NC State Athletic Hall of Fame.

"His leadership and proven success at outstanding athletic programs, along with his superb analytical skills and experience in coordinating and implementing ambitious strategic plans for nationally competitive athletic programs distinguished Michael from a very strong pool of candidates. I am confident he can lead UIC Athletics to new heights," said Amiridis.

Prior to NC State, Lipitz spent 11 years in senior leadership roles at the University of Maryland. As Senior Associate Athletic Director, he supervised women's basketball, men's lacrosse, field hockey, volleyball, gymnastics, swimming and diving, wrestling and women's golf. He oversaw Maryland's marketing, licensing, ticketing and video units, and managed relationships with its sponsorship rights holder, its football fundraising organization, and its letter winner organization. He also negotiated and managed contracts, including the all-sport apparel deal, and multimedia, concessions, merchandising and personnel agreements.

"I am honored to join the University of Illinois at Chicago under the leadership of Chancellor Amiridis," said Lipitz. "As a Division I program at a top public research university in one of the world's most vibrant cities, Flames Athletics is uniquely positioned to deliver an exceptional student-athlete experience and to compete at the highest level. My family and I are excited to be part of the UIC community."

Lipitz holds a law degree from Villanova University and a bachelor's degree in political science from the University of Maryland, where he was a captain of the men's tennis team. He and his wife, Kerry, are the parents of two sons, Henry and Charlie.

What They're Saying About Michael Lipitz:

Debbie Yow, Former Director of Athletics, University of Maryland and NC State University: "UIC has made a wise choice. No one will outwork Michael. His collaborative and strategic approach will energize those who care about UIC. Additionally, his proven experience in elevating teams and programs will encourage his coaches, athletes and boosters. In Michael, they have a leader who know how to make real and sustained progress on all fronts."

Sherard Clinkscales, Director of Athletics, Indiana State University: “Michael is a seasoned senior administrator that understands the commitment required to lead an athletics department. He will work tirelessly to provide the best possible student athlete experience. He will set high expectations and work collaboratively with all stakeholders to see it to fruition.”

Kevin Keatts, Men’s Basketball Head Coach, NC State University: “Michael is the consummate professional. He has a vision and the skill set as an athletic director to implement that vision. I know he has the ability to lead any athletic department in the country and will do a tremendous job at UIC.”

Warwick Arden, Executive Vice Chancellor & Provost, NC State University: “We will all miss Michael very much but wish him all the best. I think of Michael as a consummate professional. Always deeply knowledgeable, approachable, calm and deeply caring. He will be a great asset to UIC and we congratulate you on a great hire!”

Kyle Spencer, Men’s Tennis Head Coach, NC State University: “Michael is a dynamic leader and has been an absolute joy to work with as not only our deputy athletics director but also as my sport administrator. He shared my vision of the program and went to the ends of the earth to get what we needed. He was always there for me personally and professionally from the day I was hired. While it will be a loss for NC State, it will be a great gain for UIC. He will do a great job elevating the department as he cares about every sport and every student-athlete and the opportunity to compete at the highest level.”

Braden Holloway, Head Swimming & Diving Coach, NC State University: “Fabulous decision for UIC! Michael is not only a great leader and visionary for athletics, he is a people first kind of guy. He puts his teams and coaches at the forefront of the athletics department’s goals. Creating unity and brand for all of the department, Michael knows the path to building and sustaining success!”

HEAD COACH LUKE YAKLICH

SECOND SEASON AT UIC // ILLINOIS STATE '98

No stranger to the state of Illinois and the Chicagoland area, Luke Yaklich (YOCK-litch) was named head men's basketball coach for the UIC Flames by Director of Intercollegiate Athletics Michael Lipitz on March 26, 2020.

The 43-year-old Yaklich brings 21 years of coaching experience to Chicago and he has helped lead three collegiate programs – Texas, Michigan and Illinois State – to national postseason success.

Most recently the Associate Head Coach for Shaka Smart at the University of Texas, Yaklich helped the Longhorns to a third place Big XII finish and presumptive NCAA Tournament berth in 2019-20 (prior to this year's tournament being canceled). Considered one of the top defensive minds in the game, Yaklich shaped a defense that ranked in the top 30 in the NCAA in scoring defense by allowing only 63.3 points per game.

Prior to his season in Austin, Yaklich served as an assistant coach for John Beilein at the University of Michigan. He helped lead the Wolverines to a pair of 30-win seasons, two Sweet 16 appearances, and the 2018 National Championship Game.

Michigan won over 80 percent of its games for a total of 63 victories in Yaklich's two campaigns. The Wolverines ranked eighth nationally in scoring defense (63.3 ppg) in his first season on the bench (2017-18) and advanced all the way to the NCAA Championship game against Villanova. It was the first time a Michigan team led the Big Ten in scoring defense since 1963-64. It also ranked third nationally that year in Defensive Efficiency by the KenPom ratings (90.5).

During Yaklich's second season in Ann Arbor, Michigan led the Big Ten once again and ranked second in the NCAA in scoring defense (57.7 ppg) and second in KenPom's Defensive Efficiency (86.2). The team posted 30 wins, earned a No. 2 seed in the NCAA Tournament and advanced to the Sweet 16 before bowing out against Texas Tech, the eventual national runner-up.

Yaklich began his collegiate coaching career at his alma mater, Illinois State, on the staff of head coach Dan Muller. From 2013-17, he helped the Redbirds win 86 games and earn three postseason bids (2 NIT; 1 CBI). Yaklich was elevated to Associate Head Coach prior to the 2016-17 campaign, and that year ISU posted a 28-7 overall mark, including a 17-1 record in the Missouri Valley Conference. The Redbirds set single-season program records for overall wins (28), regular-season victories (25) and conference wins (17). ISU concluded that season ranked fifth in the NCAA in field-goal percentage defense (37.9 percent) and seventh in scoring defense (61.3 ppg).

A teacher in the truest sense, Yaklich ascended to the collegiate ranks after serving as head coach of highly successful Illinois high school programs for 14 years, where he primarily taught U.S. history. He was head boys' basketball coach at Joliet West High School (Joliet, Ill.) for six seasons, while also leading the Joliet Pride and Illinois Wolves AAU teams.

During his final season at Joliet West (2012-13), Yaklich led the Tigers to 19 wins and an IHSA Class 4A Lockport Regional title. He also guided the 2009-10 team to a 24-8 record and the Homewood-Flossmoor Sectional championship. He earned 2010 District 9 Illinois Basketball Coaches Association (IBCA) Coach of the Year honors.

Yaklich also coached at his high school alma mater, LaSalle-Peru High School, from 2003-07 (boys) and 1999-2000 (girls). In between, he was the head boys basketball coach at Sterling High School in Sterling, Ill., from 2000-03. Yaklich's teams won 214 games in his 14 seasons as head coach.

A native of LaSalle, Ill., Yaklich is a 1994 graduate of La Salle-Peru Township High School, where he played basketball for the Cavaliers. He graduated from Illinois State University in 1998, where he earned a Bachelor of Science degree with endorsements for American and world history, sociology, political science and geography.

The UIC head coach also earned two master's degrees from Olivet Nazarene University in Bourbonnais, Ill. He received his Master of Education in 2004 and followed in 2009 with a Master of Education Administration. He also became a National Board Certified Teacher (NBCT) for social studies in 2012.

Yaklich and his wife Amy, have three children, Olivia, Griffin and Taylor.

What They're Saying About Luke Yaklich:

Michael Lipitz, Director of Athletics, UIC:

"Luke has been an integral part of championship programs at every stop in his career. He's a skilled tactician and teacher of the game, is highly regarded for his ability to develop players to their full potential, and prioritizes the academic success of his students."

Shaka Smart, Head Coach, University of Texas:

"I'm extremely excited for Luke and his family about this terrific opportunity at UIC. We're grateful for his strong contributions to our program this past year and look forward to watching his success this next season and beyond."

John Beilein, Former Head Coach, University of Michigan:

"Luke Yaklich is going to be a terrific head coach at UIC. His passion to learn the game is incredible and no one is going to be more prepared. He really understands the game on both sides of the ball. He is a relentless recruiter who also values character and attitude in his evaluations. He has been preparing himself for this opportunity. I will be rooting for UIC and Luke Yaklich next season and beyond."

Dan Muller, Head Coach, Illinois State University:

"Luke Yaklich is a teacher who loves the game of basketball. I've had a lot of tremendous assistants, and he ranks up there with the best of them. Luke really connects with his players and is fully committed to helping each player grow. He is an unbelievable person, a great family man, and a lifelong learner. Luke is one of my closest friends and I could not be happier for him."

Duncan Robinson, Miami Heat; 2018 Big Ten Sixth Man of the Year, University of Michigan:

"I had the privilege of playing for Coach Yaklich during my time at the University of Michigan. He has a passion and work ethic that is second to none. In addition to that, he prioritizes relationships and takes the necessary steps to connect with his players. Simply put, he brings the best out of everybody around him because of his character and competitive spirit. I have zero doubt in my mind that he will excel as a head coach."

Charles Matthews, 2019 All-Big Ten Honorable Mention, University of Michigan:

"I couldn't be more proud of hearing this news. Yak is as genuine as they come and truly cares about you as a person and an athlete. He's a brilliant basketball mind. I never went into any game feeling under prepared. He's a great teacher and an even better listener. I'm excited to see Yak take the program to new heights. He's going to work relentlessly to do so."

Zavier Simpson, 2019 All-Big Ten Second Team and All-Big Ten Defensive Team, University of Michigan:

"Coach Luke Yaklich is a great, very high-intense basketball coach. He is a coach who can relate to others on and off the court through simple conversation. You want to play for Coach Yak due to the respect he gives and the relationship he develops with his players and his passion and intensity for the game that he brings everyday! I loved playing for him and he's a proven winner ready to take on all challenges."

Assistant Coach Dee Brown

FIFTH SEASON AT UIC // ILLINOIS '06

Dee Brown, the 2005 Sporting News National Player of the Year, was named an assistant coach for the Flames ahead of the 2017-18 season by former UIC head coach Steve McClain.

Brown played at the University of Illinois from 2002-06. He helped the Fighting Illini capture Big Ten championships in 2004 and 2005 and reach the national championship game of the NCAA Tournament in 2005. A consensus First Team All-American and the Big Ten Player of the Year in 2005, Brown graduated as the winningest player in program history with 114 wins, and as the school's all-time leader in minutes (4,698) and starts (136).

Following his successful stint in Champaign, Brown was selected by the Utah Jazz in the 2006 NBA Draft. In addition to stops in Washington, Phoenix and Dallas on the NBA circuit, the Maywood, Ill., native spent a total of nine seasons as a professional basketball player, mainly overseas. He was a two-time champion in Europe and named Player of the Year with PBC Lukoil Academic in Bulgaria in 2015.

As a local prep standout at Proviso East High School, Brown was named Mr. Basketball in Illinois and a McDonald's All-American in 2002.

Upon announcing his retirement as a player in 2015, Brown returned to his alma mater as a Special Assistant to the Athletic Director. He also served as the Director of Player Development and Alumni Relations for the men's basketball program under head coach John Groce.

Brown's first foray into coaching came in the AAU circuit with Chicago Meanstreets. He also led Bloomington Flex, a USA select team, on a tour through China earlier this summer.

Brown graduated from the University of Illinois in 2006 with a bachelor's degree in Recreation, Sports & Tourism.

Assistant Coach Will Veasley

SECOND SEASON AT UIC // BUTLER '10

UIC head men's basketball coach Luke Yaklich announced the addition of Will Veasley to the Flames coaching staff on March 30, 2020. Veasley most recently worked at North Dakota State University where he spent the last four years as an assistant coach for the Bison.

Veasley and Yaklich will be reuniting on the bench after spending three seasons together at Illinois State. Yaklich was an assistant coach for the Redbirds while Veasley served as a video coordinator for two years (2013-15) and was the team's director of basketball operations in his final season (2015-16).

Veasley joined the staff at North Dakota State as an assistant coach before the start of the 2016-17 campaign and helped turn the Bison into one of the top teams in the Summit League. NDSU posted winning records in three of Veasley's four years, highlighted by back-to-back conference championships the last two seasons. During the 2018-19 year, the Bison captured the conference title and defeated North Carolina Central in the NCAA First Four before falling to eventual Elite 8 participant Duke. The Bison repeated as conference champions and were bound for the NCAA Tournament once more after compiling a 25-8 record and a 13-3 mark in league play during the 2019-20 season.
